VOLUME XXVI

NEWBERG, OREGON, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 15, 1914

NUMBER 1

Formal Opening of College

The formal opening of the college occurred Tuesday night, September 22, in Wood-Mar hall. A large audience of students, old grads. and friends and patrons of the school were present at the exercises. Music for the occasion was furnished by Mrs. Eva Hummer Hull and Prof. Alexander Hull, of the Pacific College School of Music, who rendered a splendid program, consisting of instrumental duets and vocal and 'cello solos by Prof. Hull.

Prof. M. D. Hawkins gave a couple of humorous selections, which were very much enjoyed by the audience.

Pres. Pennington gave a splendid address on the value of higher education and the advantages enjoyed by the smaller colleges over the larger institutions of learning.

After the program, a social half-hour was enjoyed by those present.

Registration commenced Monday, and on Wednesday recitations began. The enrollment so far shows that 28 students have enrolled who were not here last year. This includes four students from Idaho and one from Washington. Although the registration is not quite up to last year's total, there are still some students expected to enter soon, and it is hoped that these will bring the mark up to that of last year.

Boys' New Dorm.

Owing to the fact that Canyon Hall, the old dormitory, has become too small to house both the men and women wishing to room there, it has been given over exclusively for the use of the girls, and part of the old college building has been fitted up for the use of the men. New chairs, study tables and single beds have been installed, and the walls freshly Painted and finished. A splendid shower bath has been put in up stairs, and every thing conducive to the comfort of the student has been done.

Y. M.-Y. W. C. A. Reception

On Saturday evening, October 3, occurred the annual reception for the new students, given by the Young Men's and Young Women's Christian Associations. Wood-Mar hall was prettily decorated for the occasion in the college colors. The guests were welcomed at the door by the presidents of the respective associations, who made everybody feel at home. Then everyone proceeded to get better acquainted, until the crowd was divided up into groups. Each group had to act out the title of some book, and many interesting charades resulted.

After this diversion, all the girls were assembled in the library and each was given the name of a book. Then the gentlemen were allowed to call the name of some book, which they "borrowed" from the library for short period of time. Taking books from the library soon became very popular, and there was always a large crowd besieging the librarian's desk. Soon, almost too soon for some, refreshments were served and the young men were allowed to keep their last "borrowed book" as their partner for supper.

Everyone seemed to have a pleasant time and to thoroughly enjoy themselves, a united social spirit being in evidence.

Frosh Hike

The Frosh, under the watchful care of Miss Kenworthy and Prof. Spahr, hiked to the top of Chehalem Mountain the evening of October 9th. Although the weather was decidedly damp, it seemed only to add spice to their already high spirits.

Athletics.

Ten of last year's football better men are again in school, and with two or three new experienced men and some very promising new material to draw upon, the future of the season's work on the gridiron certainly looks promising.

George, who entered school last year too late to make his "Q," is again playing at his old position of left half. Forward passes are George's hobby. Guyer with four years' experience on the Vermillion Academy (Ill.) team at half back shows his experience. He is well built for the position and has the proper speed.

This is Hinshaws' first season on the football field but he does not show it. What he lacks in weight he makes up in speed and sureness in handling the ball. He has been working at quarter and end.

It would be difficult to analyze Capt. Benson's logic when he gets into a tight place, but it must be something like this.—There stands a brick wall. We are going through it.—Then is heard his war cry "Lets go!" "Lets go!" and it is eulogizing the old members of the team enough to say that they do go.

Coach Hawkins, who has been in the East through the summer, has been studying new plays, signals, and coaching in general with an ardor that will bear its first fruits when the Columbia University eleven are met at Portland, Oct. 17. Pacific University will be met on the local gridiron Oct. 24, Chemawa Nov. 14, and the return game with P. U. will be played Nov. 26.

P. H. L. '15.

The game with Columbia will probably start with the following line-up:

Center—Edwards.
Right guard—Keeney.
Right tackle—Haworth.
Right end—Jones.
Quarter—Gause.
Left half—Guyer.
Right half—George.
Full—Replogle.

The other men making the trip are Pickett, Bates, Hinshaw, Vestal and Prof. Hawkins.

Class Officers

Seniors—President, T. Arthur Benson; vice-president, Harry H. Haworth; secretary, Eva M. Campbell; treasurer, W. Ellis Pickett.

Juniors—President, Myrtle Thomas; vice-president, Delbert Replogle; secretary and treasurer, Paul Lewis.

Sophomores—President, Meade Elliott; vice-president, Clarence Jones; secretary and treasurer, Myrtle Mills.

Freshmen—President, Ross Miles; vice-president, Christine Hollingsworth; secretary and treasurer, May Moore.

Seniors.

The first social affair of the Senior class was held at the home of Miss Florence Kaufman Friday evening, Oct. 16th. The chief entertainment consisted in an elaborate "spread." During the course of the banquet many brilliant remarks were made by the "Wise Seniors." All left feeling they had had a most profitable and enjoyable evening.

Indian Entertainment.

The first series of concerts given by the student-body and the school of music will be given at Wood-Mar Hall Friday, Oct. 23rd, 8:00 p.m. Admission of 10 cents will be charged, the proceeds to be used toward the purchase of a grand piano.

Welcome to Our Midst

We are indeed glad to welcome the new members, both of faculty and student body, to Pacific, and also to see the live interest you are manifesting in maintaining the customs and traditions and attaining the ideals of our beloved alma mater.

Boost the Foot Ball Team

Danger! Are you a grind? If so, quit it. A grind does not necessarily mean a book worm, although that term is perhaps oftenest applied with that meaning. There are also social grinds, athletic grinds—yes, even religious grinds—individuals whose attentions and energies are centered and concentrated on merely one phase of life, to the exclusion of all others. Nobody who is a grind can ever be evenly developed or of a well-rounded character, that we see proven every day of our lives. Much less can a college composed of lop-sided students be a well-rounded institution and exert the uplifting and bettering influence which it should upon its surroundings or the world at large. If we are true to ourselves and loyal to our school we must be careful of our tendencies and development. Let's make this Pacific's greatest and best year. We can if we will, and we will. Don't be a grind!

Due to the absence of both the editor and assistant editor, the September issue of the Crescent were of necessity omitted.

If it needs to be done, do it.

Y. W. C. A.

The annual "get acquainted" social of the Y. W. C. A. was held Friday evening, September 25, immediately after school. Almost every girl in school together with the ladies of the faculty wandered down into the College Canyon. The first event of the evening was a race in which one of our dignified faculty members beat the junior girl climbing a fence. The next was a "slow" race. This was also won by a faculty member. The crowning went however was roasting marshmallows and eating apples.

The Y. W. meeting of October 6 was led by the membership and finance committees. Our aim is to have every girl in school a member of the Y. W. C. A. and all dues paid by Oct. 28.

The first meeting of the Y. W. C. A. on September 30th was led by Myrtle Mills. Rev. Chas. O. Whitely explained the plans for a Bible Study class for this winter, then the girls spent the rest of the time telling of some of the excellent points of the Y. W. C. A. and what it means to belong to the association.

College of Music Entertains

Friday evening, October 16, was gala day for the faculty, casting aside their burdens for the hour, they gathered at the home of the Hulls and made merry one and all. Recklessly flinging aside the sedate and stately manners so becoming to our instructors, they made random guesses at the many conundrums their hostess propounded, oncored heartily her merry tunes and consumed cake-yes-cakes in enormous quantities, we are told. The winners of the various contests are it seems rather modest about their victories, but we, yea we undergraduates could guess the cake consuming prize winner.

It is said they adjourned promptly at ten thirty.

Boasting may at times be permissible, but boosting is allowed any time and every time. Boost, not only by words, but also by actions. Boost the faculty. Boost the student body. Boost the football team. Boost the debating league. Boost the glee club. Boost the literary societies. Boost Pacific every time and over time.

Students Entertained by C. E.

The Friends Christian Endeavor entertained the college students Saturday evening, Oct. 10, in the C. E. room. Each one was greeted at the door with a large sign requesting them to enter backwards. Thus the fun began for the whole evening was spent in doing stunts backwards. Everyone was glad they arrived at the appointed hour as refreshments were served first.

Stag Mix

Under the leadership of the Y. M. C. A. the men met on the evening of September 25 in a genuine "stag mix," or "get-together social." Entertainment was furnished with a vim, in ways customary to such occasions, and plentifully interspersed with peanuts, canteloupes and lemonade. During breathing spells, Pickett spake of "The Future Policy of the Association," Prof. Hawkins on "Athletics" and Pres. Pennington on "The Influence of the Y. M. C. A. on the College."

Every time you buy it, get it of our advertisers.

Boost and keep on boosting.

LOCALS

We are glad to see visitors at college.

Every man in school has joined the Y. M. C. A.

Mrs. N. D. Elliott, of Salem, visited Pacific Oct. 6.

"Lest ye forget, lest ye forget" — join that Bible study class.

Don't fail to join the Y. M. or Y. W. C. A. You will never regret it.

Miss Maud Haworth, '13, has enrolled for special work in psychology and political science.

Mabel Haworth '13, Daisy Newhouse '14, E. H. Woodward and his two brothers have called upon us recently.

In chapel Friday, October 16, Prof. Marshall talked on the value of time—the first chapel talk from any of the regular faculty.

In chapel Oct. 15th Charles O. Whitely told some very interesting experiences he has been having while collecting funds for our endowment.

The student body welcomes Omer Gause, who comes from Newberg high school, to our ranks. He will be a valuable addition to our football squad.

Ross Miles was taken ill Monday Oct. 12th, and returned to his home in Salem where he is receiving mother's care. He is reported to be rapidly improving.

The prayer meeting on October 7 was lead by Guy Needham, Student Association Secretary of the Northwest, he spoke along the line of "Bible Study," showing clearly the need and demand among college men for systematic study of the Scriptures.

The Sophomores entertained the Freshmen in the Canyon Hall parlors Friday evening, October 16. Games of different varieties amused the Frosh, but the toys they received seemed more to meet their needs. After singing a few songs, fruit and sandwiches were served. Mrs. and Mr. Allen were the chaperones.

Friday, October 2, B. C. Mills, of Salem, came down in his car after the children, so that they might attend the state fair in Salem. "The children" in this case consisted of Ross and Lyra and Prof. McMin, Prof. Spahr and Miss Kenworthy. They all report having had a splendid time.

Miss Mae Woodward, niece of E. H. Woodward, and Miss Elva Woodward, grand-niece, both from Indiana, visited chapel Thursday, October 15, with Miss Sibyl Woodward.

The third year Preps. spent Friday evening, October 2, at the Haworth ranch, practicing bachelor accomplishments, the climax being to see who could eat the most of fried chicken and watermelon.

In response to an emergency call last Tuesday morning our friend, J. C. Hodson gave us a visible example of "Meeting Emergencies" in his chapel talk which he was called upon to deliver without time for preparation.

Miss Gladys Hannon has at last returned and taken her accustomed place in our midst, this seventh day of October, A. D. MDCCCXCIV. Miss Hannon spent her vacation campaigning for "Oregon Dry" under the W. C. T. U.

Among the old students who are exercising their pedagogical abilities this year are Mary Jones, Elma Pearson, Ray Langworthy, Hilda Haroldson, Lesta Cook, Herbert York, Jennie De Bord, Emmett Gulley and Imo Mellinger.

The Trefians met and elected the following officers for the year Mildred Benson, president; Ruth Crozier, vice-president; Alta Gumm, secretary; Ruth Hinshaw, treasurer; Lyra Miles, reporter; Irene Hodgkin, sergeant-at-arms; Miss Lewis, faculty adviser.

We are sorry to note the marked indifference on the part of our faculty in regard to the opportunities afforded them for influencing the young mind for good during the period commonly called chapel. There has not been even one single, lone "chapel talk" so far.

The first association meeting was held September 30, President Pickett having charge. The meeting was largely devoted to the outlining of the ideals and objects of the association and its plans for the coming year. The more important among the different branches of work are Bible and Mission Study and Deputation work. The attendance was large and much interest was manifest, which promises a splendid year in store for the association.

The Boys' Agoreton Literary Society met Tuesday evening, Oct. 6, for the regular election of officers. Harry H. Haworth was elected president; Clarence Jones, vice-president; Robert H. Dann, secretary; Harold E. Hinshaw, treasurer; Ellis Pickett, marshal.

The following Friday evening the society rendered the first program of the year in the music room, which was very good considering its impromptu nature.

Tramp. "Yes'm I had a good job once, managing a hand laundry, but it failed on me."

"Poor man! how was that?"

Tramp. "Well she left and went to live with her own folks."—Ex.

Some people are complaining that the Allies are too much on the defensive, but Punch suggested it is hard to be as offensive as the Germans.

Mistress. "Of course I don't want to put any obstacles in the way of your marriage, but wish it were possible for you to stay until I could get another maid."

Mary Ann. "Well mum I hardly think I know 'im well enough to ask 'im to put it off."

"Before we were married," said Mrs. Chatterton, "you used to tell me how much you loved me, but you never do now."

"Of course not, my dear," replied the masculine partner. "Since our marriage you haven't given me a chance to tell you anything."
