Totals 673..... 249

On the season just ended Coach R. W. Lewis succeeded in turning out the best basket ball team that Pacific has had in several years. The season was a success in every way, Manager Colcord handling the financial end of it very successfully, while Captain Replogle led the team to victory in eleven of the thirteen games played, giving P. C. a splendid average of .846 per cent of wins.

The team early showed its calibre by the way in which it decisively defeated its opponents in the five preliminary games. Chemawa was defeated twice, once on their floor and once here. By comparative scores this puts P. C. on a par with Willamette U. and the crack Dallas Armory team, as Chemawa defeated W. U. and held the latter to a lead of two points.

The blue and gold team showed up as good as any in the non-conference league, and it was only due to a combination of hard luck that we did not win the pennant.

Captain Replogle alone made a total of 177 points in the eight games, this being 12 points more than the total our opponents made in the same games. This season completes his basket ball career, as he graduates in June. He has played on the basket ball team four years, winning his letter three times.

Hinshaw, another veteran, played good ball throughout the season. He was one of the fast-

PRES. PENNINGTON IS EXPECTED SOON

Spends Six Months in the Eastern States in the Interest of Pacific College.

After an absence of nearly six months, President and Mrs. Pennington are expected home in about two weeks. They have been very successful in their work to obtain aid for the college.

They expect to return by way of Kansas and California, visiting Friends University and Whitier College.

Their absence has seemed long; Pacific will be more like Pacific with the president's return.

est forwards in the league.

Gulley, our lengthy center, added a lot of strength to the scoring machine, and seldom was out-jumped at the "tip-off." He was a star on defense.

Colcord, another member of the team of two years ago, was rather slow rounding into form, but the end of the season found him playing spectacular ball. In the game at Forest Grove he was at his best. His guarding was the equal of any in the league.

Guyer played on the team for the first time this year and played a good game at guard.

Harrington, also a newcomer, played a hard, fast game. He was at his best in the last Mac game.

Miles, at guard, was there, with plenty of "pep." Running into Miles closely resembles pushing a concrete sidewalk aside.

The second-stringers did good work, not only in furnishing opposition for the varsity, but also in winning a majority of their match games. The men playing throughout the season on this team were P. Elliott, Edwards, Nichols, Jones and Miles. Prospects look bright for a good season next year. Only one letter man will be lost by graduation.

Official records of late fussing: Hinshaw, leading, 1:00 a. m. Gulley, close second, 12:58 a. m. Replogle, third, 12:40 a. m. H. Taggart, timekeeper.

DeMOSS'S GIVE ENTERTAINMENT

Large Audience Listens to a Varied and Interesting Musical Program.

To those who enjoy rare surprises, the entertainment given at Wood-Mar Hall on the evening of March 21, by the DeMoss troupe, was interesting, for it was indeed a series of "the unexpected." The program was very varied, beginning with an overture for stringed instruments and ending with a production of "Those Evening Bells," which, we are told, has been their closing number for many years. The two small boys, aged ten years, who participated in a variety of things from male quartet to a strenuous part in an "anvil chorus," were remarkable for their agility and ability to enter heartily into whatever they were doing.

One of the most pleasing numbers was "I Gave Myself for Thee," rendered by Mr. DeMoss, playing on two cornets at the same time with perfect ease. Selections were also given on the zylophone, the bells and various stringed instruments, including banjos, violins and mandolins. Miss Hughes was at her best in a reading from Paul Lawrence Dunbar, entitled, "In the Morning." She also gave "Taking an Elevator."

The DeMoss Entertainers enjoy a national reputation, having been on the road for over a quarter of a century, traveling in both Europe and America. They were brought here by the Willamette Club.

WE PLAY MAC THE FIFTEENTH

The first game of the season is one of the most important ones. This year we go to Mac on the fifteenth of April. That is just two weeks away and the team are just now getting into shape. We can beat them if we will. Let's get behind the team and make it a "game winner." Remember just two weeks to get ready to "Beat Mac."

BASE BALL SEA- SON IS OPENED

Pacific Has Excellent Prospects for a Winning Team the Coming Year.

If you don't believe Pacific is going to have a winning baseball team this season, just take a look at the diamond one of these warm spring afternoons and you will be convinced. There is "pep" and "ginger" galore despite a large number of sore arms and bad eyes. Coach Knickabocker has had his squad out all this week and they seem to be doing the best of work for the first of the season.

At a meeting of the squad Thursday evening after school Delbert Replogle was elected captain for this season. Replogle is this year's basketball captain and high point man for the league and should be able to manage a winning team.

Coach Knickabocker has not given any man a sure place on the team yet and from the looks of the field there will be some hard competition for places. Gulley at pitcher and Hinshaw at third are veteran players who are practically sure of keeping their positions. The men on the squad so far are: Replogle, Gulley, Hinshaw, Harrington, P. Elliott, M. Elliott, Colcord, Haworth, Newhouse, Guyer, Pettingill, Miles, and Mr. Whitely as first assistant. Lets all get behind our team and boost. They have the stuff in them.

Coach Knickabocker—"We are going to beat Mac this year."

DEBATE

Our debate manager, Mr. Edwards, has, with characteristic energy, got things well under way for the coming Albany-Pacific debate. A large number have signed up for debate and are hard at work preparing for the try-out to be held some time this week. The question is, "Resolved, That the United States should adopt the essential features of the Swiss system of military training." In the inter-collegiate debate Pacific supports the negative.

The new staff of the Crescent extends greetings to its readers. We have seen the hearty support given to the staff of 1915-16, and feel confident that you will aid us in the same way. We intend to do our part to make the Crescent the most interesting college newspaper possible, and with your help and co-operation we believe we have reason to set our aim high. Get your friends to subscribe, and thus make possible more cuts. When you hear a joke that gives you a good laugh, write it down and slip it in the Crescent box; perhaps it will give some one else a good laugh, too. If there's any way you think the paper can be improved, don't hesitate to mention it to the editors—they're more than anxious for suggestions. You didn't know there were so many ways you could help, did you?

Y. W. C. A.

The last meeting was a business session. After the usual quarterly reports had been read, each committee chairman told us in a lively and unconventional way of what her committee had been doing since the thirteenth of September. Then, since it was the time for the annual election of officers, the nominating committee's report was again read, and officers for 1916-17 were elected. Mildred Benson is the new president, Marjorie Gregory is again the vice-president, Stella Hubbard will act as secretary and Alta Gumm succeeds herself as treasurer. These officers will be installed at the regular time the first of next month.

AGORETON

Just before time for the Agoreton meeting held in the dormitory parlors on Tuesday, March 14, it was discovered that several members, including the president, who were to take part in the program, could not be present on account of an important meeting of the Y. M. C. A. nominating committee. The vice-president took the chair, however, and after changing the program, proceeded as usual.

The "feature" of the evening was an extemporaneous debate by Paul Elliott, affirmative, and Clarence Jones, negative. The question was, "Resolved, That it is better to fuss with one girl steadily than to fuss with several intermittently." The negative speaker lost by a large majority, but it was very evident that his words were not from the heart.

TREFIAN

The society held their regular meeting March 15 in the dormitory parlors. The opening number was a song by the society, "There's Music in the Air."

The "Trefian Oracle," edited by Elsie Reed and Esther Terrell, was read. This was a special spring number and contained several interesting items.

In keeping with the general character of the program, Mildred Benson recited an original spring poem, "Das Fruhling-slied (A Spring Song).

Marjorie Gregory and Irene Hodgkin gave a musical number, which consisted of a medley of old-fashioned and popular songs.

A spring house-cleaning stunt, performed by Myrtle Thomas and Alta Gumm, ended the program.

CHAPEL NOTES

March 28 Prof. Perisho gave an exceedingly practical talk on the subject of conservation of time and resources. A file that is simple and inexpensive was described, and instructions for making and using it, given. We foresee that manilla paper will be in great demand in the near future.

Prof. Hawkins, on March 30, gave a "shop-talk" which took the form of very interesting bits of Oregon's early history. Oregon possesses the singular distinction of having selected the nation's president, one year after having been admitted to the union.

Rev. G. H. Lee spoke in chapel, March 31, on the lessons to be learned from the book of Job.

HEART THROBS

"Could you have loved the dainty girls,
The save-me-sir and fainty girls
Knights crossed the world to vie for?
They were such fragile, tender things,
Such willowy and slender things,
For knights to fight and die for.

The eight o'clock and sleepy girls,
Of medieval story?
They were such leak-the-briny things,
Such tootsie-wootsie tiny things,
To make a country gory.

"I scorn your lily-bower dames,
Your tournament and tower dames,
Knights crossed the world to vie for.
Give me the independent girls,
The latter day resplendent girls,
One doesn't have to die for."

Remember the Community Sing Monday, April 3

Harold Reed and Mr. Dibble, who are attending Pacific University, hiked over to Newberg March 22.

We are sorry that Miss Lewis is not yet able to resume her teaching, and will be glad when she is permitted to return.

Elizabeth Anderson and Marjorie Gregory visited Olive Ramsey at Springbrook on Monday and Tuesday of vacation week.

Ross Wiley was a visitor at chapel March 27. We understand he intends leaving this part of the state some time this week.

A number of college students enjoyed the banquet given at Friends church on March 24 by three of the young people's classes.

Extensive changes are taking place in the parlors of Canyon Hall, under the able supervision of "Daddy" Allen. We hear that numerous cozy corners are being planned.

Among those who spent the spring vacation at home were Myrtle Thomas, Ross Miles, Belle White, Harold Hinshaw, Cecil Pearson, Lloyd Edwards and Miss Sutton.

At a meeting of the student body after chapel, March 28, the resignation of Ross Miles as business manager of the Crescent was accepted and Lloyd Edwards was elected to fill the position.

Miss Gladys Nichols and classmate, Miss Fuller, of Willamette University, spent the spring vacation at the Nichols home. Louis Stuart, also of W. U., was the guest of Harold Nichols during the latter part of the week.

Did the seniors start the clapping in chapel March 27? It makes no difference, anyway. We were told that President Pennington had finished his work in the East and would probably arrive in Newberg by April 10.

On March 29 the Trefians gave an Irish program. First of all everyone joined in singing "Where the River Shannon Flows." Pauline Terrell gave a very pleasing piano solo and then Mary Sanders gave a characteristic Irish reading. A very clever stunt was performed by Zoe Hibbs, Elsie Reed and Helen Ellis. It was a "medical marvel" and consisted of a sick patient, an anesthetic, a saw, a knife, and a large number of Irish potatoes. As a fitting conclusion to the program, the roll was called and each member responded to her name with an Irish joke.

To anyone desiring to learn the fine art of candy making, Irene is recommended. Fondant a specialty.

A donation of mouse traps or cats would be greatly appreciated by Mrs. Hodgins and the girls, to assist them in ridding Wood-Mar Hall of its small tenants, who pay no rent. Song books and umbrellas are such unwieldy weapons.

Prof. Hawkins and Prof. Taggart spent the early part of vacation week in Portland. They visited Reed College on Monday and Prof. Hawkins spoke in chapel. It is rumored that he was requested to stand in front of the pulpit rather than behind it. We wonder why!

TENNIS RACKET

Ross Miles has been elected manager of tennis for this season and will arrange matches with some of the near-by schools if possible. We have some real tennis "sharks" here and we should not be ashamed to have them meet other schools.

Captain Kaufman of the first court has made that court look the best it ever did. Court No. 1 looks like a place to play real tennis now.

The Tennis Association died a natural death this spring and was taken over by the athletic association. It was decided to tax each member who wished to play tennis thirty-five cents and those girls who wish to play, twenty-five cents. In this way the Athletic Association will not be out anything for tennis this year and will have it under its control. Next year the athletic dues are to be raised to fifty cents a semester and the tennis money will be taken from the athletic treasury.

Prof. Hawkins and Prof. Taggart are faithfully working away on the faculty court. It seems to do some of the students good to see the faculty get out and work once in a while. Nevertheless the faculty seem to know how to do it.

GULLEY TO CAPTAIN BASKETBALL TEAM

At a meeting of the letter men in basketball Tuesday evening, Emmett Gulley was elected captain for the 1916-1917 season. Gulley has played with Pacific for three years and also was captain in his second year. On account of his height and his speed and accuracy he has been the back bone of the passing and team work, as well as getting his number of "baskets."

Much of the credit for the success of the team this year must be given to our new captain because of his defensive playing and the signal work which he made possible.

BASKET BALL TEAMS ARE AGAIN HONORED

One of the most pleasing social events of the season was the dinner and party given by Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Colcord on Friday evening March 17, in honor of the two basket ball teams. The members of the teams were invited for dinner at 6:30, and a number of their friends arrived later in the evening. A color scheme of green and the idea of St. Patrick's Day was carried out through the games of the evening, as well as through the refreshments. The fortunes of the guests were told with the aid of a shamrock, and Paul Elliott captured the prize for the best drawing of the emblems of Ireland.

LOCAL ARTISTS TO APPEAR SOON

Next Friday evening, March 31, is the date set for the production of the "District School." The Woman's Auxiliary has secured the services of a number of local people of marked ability and, with both quality and quantity, the "District School" will undoubtedly be one of the bright spots in the memories of those who attend. You can't afford to miss it. Admission 25 cents. Reserved seats at Kienle's Music Store 35 cents. Children under 14 years, 15 cents.

Friday, March 17, there was held a business meeting of the Y. M. C. A. Vernon Bush and Cecil Hinshaw were admitted to membership. At the present time every man in school is a member of the Y. M. C. A. This is the second time in the history of the school in which the Y. M. membership has reached 100 per cent.

The report of the nominating committee was read. The following officers were nominated and accepted and will be installed this week: Ross C. Miles, president; Henry Keeney, vice-president; Harold Nichols, secretary; Paul Elliott, treasurer. We are sure that this staff of officers will work hard for the Y. M. and will keep up the present state of efficiency which has been reached during the presidency of Paul Lewis.

Last Wednesday Rev. Gould, of the Methodist church addressed the young men. His topic was, "I know." He showed the necessity for each christian young man knowing positively when and where he experienced conversion.

In his address he said, "Have positive evidence that you have God and Him dwelling within you." "Be positive that you know God." "Know so that your faith cannot be shaken."

EXCHANGE NOTES

The last number of the Southwest Student certainly proves to us by the interest taken in debate that the intellectual interests of the youth of Missouri are not being sacrificed to athletics.

The dishonor roll lately inaugurated at O. A. C. for professors who keep their classes more than five minutes over-time, appeals to us strongly. Let us hear from you later how your plan succeeds. We also wish to express our hearty approval of your "loan fund" for assisting impecunious students.

We hope our Quaker friends in Kansas may be as successful in their contemplated endowment campaign as we were in ours. Here's wishing you success.

We all feel acquainted with your new president at Washington State College after seeing the cover to your last number of the Evergreen. A very good idea.

In the Y. W. C. A. notes in the Willamette Collegian we notice that Lyra Miles, a former P. C. student, is now chairman of the Religious Meetings committee.
