SWEATERS GIVEN AS AWARDS TO TWO ATHLETIC STARS

Athletic Association Makes First Award of Two Sweaters to Two Letter Men Under New Ruling. Are Hard to Obtain.

Last Tuesday morning Prof. Lewis had the honor of giving out the first sweaters awarded by the Athletic Association to letter men under the new ruling. Sweaters were awarded to Frank C. Colcord and Harold H. Hinshaw, both men having six gold "Q"s. The amendment to the constitution of the Athletic Association authorizing sweater awards was passed several weeks ago.

It has been felt for some time by those interested in athletics that some such award should be made. Since the basket ball men have been returning their suits at the end of the season there has been no award except a letter to the men on the various teams. Each man on a team must pay both athletic dues and student affair fees, as well as furnish the entertainment for which part of the student affair money is paid. Of course, it is impossible to award a sweater with a letter as is done in larger schools, owing to the expense, but the new ruling has been figured to meet the situation very well.

In order to earn a sweater a man must have earned six letters in the major sports: football, basketball, baseball or track. Two tennis letters equal one major letter. However, if a Senior has earned four letters, he is entitled to a sweater upon graduation. No man is to receive more than one sweater. The committee in framing this amendment wished to avoid two things. First, they wished to make the requirements so strict that no man could leave P. C. with a sweater who was not athletically fit to represent her, yet lenient enough so that no man really entitled to a re-

ORATORICAL TRYOUTS MONDAY AFTERNOON

The final tryouts for the state oratorical contest for Pacific are to be held next Monday afternoon in the chapel. Arrangements are being made so that the students can be admitted to the contest by their student affairs tickets, a thing that never has been done before, and there should be a great deal of active class spirit shown. There are to be six speakers, from the Freshman, Sophomore and Junior classes. It seems the Seniors were too uncertain of their future to enter oratory this year. From the Freshman, Harold Lee, Mary Pennington, Grace Benson and Cecil Pearson will speak. The Sophs will be represented by Alfred Haworth and the Juniors by Olive Johnson.

PACIFIC DEFEATS PHILOMATH AGAIN

Pacific won the first league game on the home floor January 11th from Philomath College by a score of 54 to 12. This is the second defeat of Philomath this season.

The game was fast throughout, but at no time was Philomath able to get around Pacific's passing. Whittlesay and Kilpatrick, for the visitors, annexed six points.

For Pacific, Hinshaw made sixteen points, Wright fourteen and Colcord twelve. Botsford of Reed College failed to arrive, so Paul Elliott refereed. The line-up:

Hinshaw	F	Staggs
Elliott	F	Kilpatrick
Wright	G	Griffith
Colcord	G	Lyons
Edwards	C	Whittlesay

Team Journey to Corvallis and Play Fast Game on Big Floor—Have Lead Until Change is Made in Beaver Line-Up.

Pacific College was defeated by O. A. C. at Corvallis January 12th, 25 to 14. At the first, from the score and the speed shown by the Pacific five, it began to look like a victory for the Quakers, but a number of lucky shots by Eakin, O. A. C. forward, put the score beyond reach of the visitors.

Both teams had played the night before, so the game was not fast after the beginning of the first half. Pacific's passing and shooting was hindered by the slick floor and hanging baskets, which made it hard to judge the distance.

In the last half the Aggies put in fresh men and an attempt was made to rush Pacific off her feet, but they were not able to pile up Fast Game Witnessed By Large Crowd—Pacific is Ahead Once But is Unable to Keep the Lead—Ray Stars for Visitors.

Pacific College was defeated in a hotly contested game on the local floor by the Oregon Aggies last Saturday evening. The game was very close and the result was not sure until the last few minutes of play, when O. A. C. dropped through a few ringers and put them in the lead.

The first half started with a rush and with Pacific scoring first by Elliott's accurate foul throwing. However, the lead was soon overcome by the Beaver's scoring machine and the half ended with O. A. C. in the lead by a score of 9 to 19. Ray of the Aggies scored four field goals and nine of the ten free throws accorded him.

COUNCIL RECOMMENDS "P" MADE OFFICIAL LETTER OF SCHOOL

Old "Q" to Be Dropped if the Association Passes Suggestion of the Council—Alumni are Consulted and Approve Change.

The Athletic Council is figuring on an important change in the constitution of the Athletic Association to be recommended to that Association as soon as it is deemed advisable. That is the matter of changing the official letter from "Q" to "P." There are many things to be considered before taking such a radical move, and the Council is going over the matter very thoroughly. All letter men and others among the alumni known to be interested are being consulted and their views are receiving every consideration.

As most of the students know "Q" has been the official letter of P. C. ever since any letter has been given. Some even among the students do not know, however, that it stands for Quakers. Before making a change like the proposed one there are reasons on both sides to be considered. The gold "Q" has always been the official letter and naturally there is some hesitancy about changing the old order of things. The old letter helps people to remember that P. C. is a Quaker College. There are at least two other institutions in the valley that have the same symbol—Pacific University at Forest Grove and Philomath College at Philomath—and it might often be confused with these.

On the other hand there are very good reasons for making the change. In the first place the "Q" requires a great deal of explanation right in Newberg, and much more away from the college where advertising would be so beneficial. Unless one has an opportunity to explain, no one can even guess from what institution he comes. Then, each year

It might not be amiss to mention here the fact that this week, on Friday evening, and next week on the same day, but in the county seat, there are to be basket ball games with our old rival Mac which claim the attention of every one in the least interested in the college. These two games are always "long to be remembered," and every one, from the oldest member of the board to the smallest relation of the smallest student is urged to think, talk and plan on the game.

This week-end, in the beautiful and much beloved city of Mac, there is to be a conference that claims the attention of every student here. The annual Ministry and Missions Conference is an event that few can afford to miss when it is so close by. Every college man or woman must face his or her future with a great degree of uncertainty, but none can afford to let a chance to get information on the subject go unheeded. At Mac, the program says, there will be ample opportunity to get information on important phases of the problem.

School "pep" has a great many ways of showing itself, but at times it becomes tiresome to all. This form of enthusiasm is not true pep and should be detected as soon as possible by introspection and rooted out of ones life. It may be described as the type which jumps up and down and howls but never does anything it talks about, or at least never more than that. It is the form that will go forth from college in the summer and tell every one that it has been to college and still never do a single thing, but use college slang, etc., to show that it has been near a class room. Of course some will argue that the world needs "hot air merchants" as badly as it needs doctors and that half of success is talking, but never the less he who talks and does not accomplish is sure to bring down many other tongues upon him (or her). It sometimes behooves each of us to look into our own lives and see if we are doing all we think that we are and if our excitement over a thing has led us to imitate a jumping jack or put us to doing something gladly, enthusiastically and seriously. When you are at last out of college it will be much happier for you and better for the college you came from if you are showing people by your life and acts that you have a diploma than if you run around shouting your head off saying things that interest no one but yourself.

Y. M. C. A.

J. Stanford Moore led Y. M. January 9th, giving an interesting talk on ideals. Some of the thoughts brought out were: No man ever had an idea that was too good to put into action. There are too many men of great words and too little deeds. Ideas become of real value when put into action.

Frank Colcord was elected treasurer to fill the unexpired term of Claude Pearson at the last meeting.

Calvin Martin, a member of the class of '98, gave some good advice in his talks last week. Mr. Martin said that success rests upon doing the little thing well. If we want our work felt, we must be at the top doing every little thing right.

Y. W. C. A.

"College Through a Freshman's Eyes" was the topic for the Y. W. C. A. meeting January 9th. The meeting was in charge of Freshmen girls, who expressed their views on the religious life, college spirit, Y. W. C. A., social life, and curriculum of the school.

Miss Lurana Terrell, who is conducting a series of meetings at Springbrook, spoke at the last meeting of the Y. W. C. A. She took as her subject the essential characteristics of a heart which is most powerful in prayer. Miss Erma Cook, who is assisting Miss Terrell, sang for the girls.

Last Wednesday night a short time after study bell had rung, Ezra Hinshaw ventured out of the boy's dorm on a very gentlemanly mission. The night was dark and the sidewalk, oh, so slick. Poor Ezra had just crossed the driveway south of the dorm and placed one foot on the slick walk, when "it" happened. "It" can't be described; one must have the experience to understand. It only remains to be said that Ezra reached the walk before his other foot did. Brave boy. He only grunted.

as many points as in the first half. The game was rough but clean, only a few fouls being called. McDonald, of O. A. C., refereed.

As this was the first game the Aggies played at home, the large gym was filled with rooters who made quite a considerable noise. The line-up:

strong in the second half and were able to keep the large end of the score most of the time. Colcord started the winning streak by dropping the ball neatly through the elusive ring from the center of the floor. Elliott found the basket for two goals, followed by one from Wright and two from Hinshaw. O. A. C. ended the luck by replacing Robinson, the gigantic center, who had twisted his ankle, with Purley, and ended the half by the score of 17 to 19.

The feature of the game was the foul shooting of both sides. Ray dropped through fourteen out of sixteen trials, while Elliott scored twelve out of fifteen trials.

Gawley, from the Portland Y. M. C. A., refereed the game, calling a total of thirty-one fouls. The line-up:

WAR WORK OF SOCIETY OF FRIENDS

The work of the Society of Friends in the present war was presented by Miss Wright in College chapel last week. The work in the United States is under a general service committee with headquarters in Philadelphia, and each local meeting has a committee to direct its own work. The Red Cross transports men and material for the Friends work free of charge. There are now about 130 men in the work in France for the U. S. who are divided among medical service, Agriculture and the relief work proper, including employment and recreation of the stricken people, and rebuilding the homes and destroyed villages.

AMONG OURSELVES

Everybody get ready for Mac next Saturday night.

Mr. Upton visited school Monday morning, Jan. 14.

Miss Margarete Cook was campus visitor during the weekend.

Paul Lewis visited Young Men's Christian Association meeting on January 16.

President Pennington was unable to be on the campus Monday and Tuesday of last week.

The debate team is hard at work in preparation for the debate to be held February 3 with Mac.

A deputation team composed of Carrol Lamplin, Ivan Hadley and Paul Elliott made a trip to Dundee last Sunday night.

Something of which everyone is glad—Professor Hull is up and able to use his pen again. It is hoped that he will be at school soon.

Zenas Perisho would like very much to know, "if they keep the front door locked." (This should be read in a very audible stage whisper.)

Two Y. M. deputation teams were out holding services on Sunday, January 13. The boys like the work fine and reported good meetings at both places.

The squad of men from O. A. C. were entertained after the game at the home of Hulda Gilbert with an oyster feed, which they seemed to enjoy, if one may judge from the noise abroad.

The big gymnasium has been turned over to the girls' athletic association for Thursday evenings. The girls now have a basketball team well under headway and say that they enjoy the sport very much.

Several students served as solicitors in the recent "drive" by the Friends church for funds to support the Friends war victims relief unit of the Red Cross. A very successfully prepared campus is reported.

Mr. John Rudd of Portland met with the Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. cabinets last Thursday evening to discuss the Ministry Missions conference, which is to be held in McMinnville the last of this week. Mr. Rudd says there will be a large crowd present.

The Academy basketball team has been practicing with the High School first team during the last week. The boys report the High School in good shape for their trip to Corvallis Saturday night; incidently the boys plays is improving in nice shape.

Bible Study among the men of the school has been carried on in the most enthusiastic system that the school has ever known before. Over 75 per cent of the men in school have attended Bible study class meeting once a week throughout the last semester.

An advance course in "Campus-try" is to be given. Throughout the last week considerable agitation has been aroused by the gentler sexes in an effort to secure a course in astronomy next semester. It is hoped that enough boys will join the class to supply the demand.

Miss McCracken surprised her bible study class Thursday, Jan. 10, with eats. The girls of the class are studying "School Girl Ideals." While discussing some very vital but commonplace questions Miss McCracken served dainty refreshments consisting of ice cream, cake and cocoa.

Two members of the student body, prominent in all kinds of activities, received notifications recently that they were accepted for service in the Friends Reconstruction Unit in France. These men, Frank Colcord and Lester Wright, will be much missed in all lines of student life. They as yet do not know when they leave.

Harry H. Haworth was the chapel speaker January 10. Some of the differences between Pacific College and the University of California were given and special emphasis was placed on the opportunity for personal friendship which the small college gives that cannot be gained in a large university, with an enrollment of five thousand students.

Mrs. Hull will present several of her students at a recital to be given Monday evening, January 29. This is the first time this year that the students of the department have appeared in public and the program is sure of being a success. Some of those who will perform are the Misses Blythe Owen, Melba Sanders, Mildred Ferguson and Mrs. Sanders.

The electric signal bell was out of commission last week. Something happened for the one now in use has a tune like that of a Big Ben rather than an electric bell. Even one of the teachers, when hearing it, said, "Oh, there's the Big Ben!" Students unconsciously yawn when it "goes off." Everyone asks why we have to be reminded of the agonies associated with an alarm clock, three times in fifty minutes. Mr. Shambaugh wonders, if Poe would not be moved to add a few more lines to his poem, "Bells, Bells, Bells," if he could hear it for it is of a new variety.

Last Wednesday evening the Academy basketball team played the High School team at the H. S. gym. The Academy boys were badly defeated. The line-ups were:

Hinshaw F	Young	F
Terrell F	Jones	F
Cook C	Jones	C
Baron G	Jones	G
Bush G	Cullen	G

Last Thursday evening Clara Calkins was delightfully surprised by a bunch of her friends. As it was her birthday a large birthday cake was displayed. After playing games, rook especially, the crowd served Clara and themselves with pie, cake, sandwiches and apples. Those helping in the surprise were: Ruth Killen, Anna Ellis, Florence Calkins, Corwin Hinshaw, Alfred Terrell, Walter Cook and Belvin Vincent.

Rev. Crocker led the chapel exercises January 17. Speaking of "Clean Ambition," ambition is not always clean and does not always lead an individual to do his best for the service of the world. It is the man that makes a job look either small or large. Clean ambition should lead a man to do things and not just to fill a space in life. A vacancy will be left when a man who has been led by clean ambition is gone.

After the game last Saturday night, the members of the basketball squad and their lady friends were given a feed at "Hoddies" by some mysterious friend of the college. Time, they say, is the only thing that may tell who this friend, for so he was, may be, and what the feed was to celebrate. Those who enjoyed the treat were the Misses Irene Hodgins, Francis Elliott, Lestia Newlin, Helen Ellis, Violet Fastabend, Laurena Keeney and Harold Hinshaw, Lloyd Edwards, Lester Wright, Howard Elliott, Frank Colcord and Henry Keeney.

The Academy students had their much anticipated get-together and good time party Saturday evening, January 12. The social committee in charge had arranged a basketball game with the H. S. freshmen as a part of the evening's entertainment, and although the freshmen came out with the highest score the Preps soon forgot their grief. Immediately after the game they all repaired to the girls' gymnasium where they spent a most agreeable time playing games and going through various stunts. Later refreshments were served, after which everyone departed having announced the affair a great success. Miss Wright and Professor Shambaugh furnished the faculty dignity for the occasion.

ward should not receive one. Second, they wished the requirements to be sufficiently strict to keep the expense within the reach of the association. Apparently it will be very seldom that two or more men receive awards the same year, and some years none probably will be awarded.

The sweaters are to be ordered as needed by the Athletic Council from the records of letters kept by the Gold "Q" Club and awarded by the Athletic Association. This step has been considered for several years and is another one of the progressive measures passed by the Association during the past year. It puts Pacific that much nearer to the plane of the larger schools and toward standardization.

there are many students here who are not members of the Friends Church; and although the college is controlled and supported by the Friends, it is open to all and gets many students from other denominations. A letter on a sweater should be one that is easily distinguishable and which will advertise the school from which it comes.

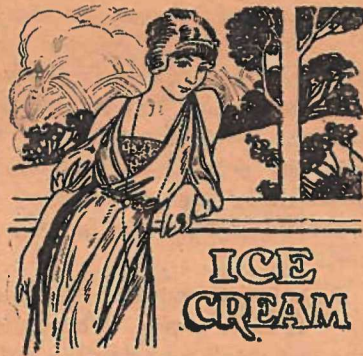

Taking all things into consideration, "P" seems to be the logical letter, and if this change is made it will be another forward move made by the students this year. If it is deemed expedient after hearing from the alumni, the Council will present the matter to the Athletic Association in the form of an amendment to the constitution within a few days, and it is to be hoped that it will be considered favorably by the Association and adopted.
