ANNUAL ELECTION OF STUDENT BODY HELD

Mary Pennington Chosen President for the Coming Year

At a meeting of the Student Body on Monday, March 31, the officers for the coming year of 1919-20 were elected. The elections were highly interesting, and a very satisfactory staff of officers was chosen. This administration will be strongly feminine, as three of the four officers are girls. The only position held by a mere man is that of secretary, Cecil Pearson.

On account of her knowledge of Student Body management, and her interest in all lines of student activities, Mary Pennington was considered the best candidate for president. She was elected over her two competitors by a fairly large majority.

Harold Lee, who served very efficiently this year as associate editor of the Crescent, was elected to the office of Editor-in-Chief. His place as associate editor will be filled by Esther Terrell.

The office of Forensic Manager was only created last year. It will include the management of the work in debate and oratory. Alfred Haworth was appointed to fill it, as he has had experience in this line.

Some of the elections were unanimous, but some were very closely contested, a second ballot being required for the election of a Yell Leader. Murray Gregory secured the position.

Following is a complete list of the results of the election:

President.....Mary Pennington
Vice President....Margaret Hodson
Secretary.....Cecil Pearson
Treasurer.....Frances Elliott
Editor-in-Chief.....Harold Lee
Associate Editor....Esther Terrell
Business Manager...Lowell Edwards
Circulation Manager....Eva Miles
Forensic Manager...Alfred Haworth
Yell Leader.....Murray Gregory

PROFESSOR HULL GIVES McDOWELL PROGRAM

Mr. Hull was at chapel again yesterday after an absence of several weeks, and made up for lost time by playing several impressive sketches by McDowell. He played two from his "Sea Sketches," and one from his better known "Woodland Sketches."

BASEBALL PROSPECTS TURN OUT IN FORCE

First Practice of Season Proves Encouraging

At a recent meeting of the baseball letter men, Sewell Newhouse was elected captain of the team this year, and it was decided to ask Mr. Knickerbocker to coach the team again. Knickerbocker has coached the team two other seasons, and certainly has shown that he not only knows how to play base ball but how to teach it. It is not certain yet that he can come, but all are hoping for the best.

Seven letter men are in school: Alfred Haworth, Howard Elliott, Sewell Newhouse, Cecil Pearson, Francis Clarke, Clinton Baron and Walter Cook. These, with the others that are trying for the team, should produce a good nine.

The problem of a pitcher is still unsolved, but with Elliott, who pitched part of last year, Clarke, Baron and Brunson trying for the position some good material should be produced. It is early to tell what the line-up will be, for with several trying for each position, there is a certainty of competition.

Howard Elliott, the manager, says that McMinnville wishes to schedule several games on a plan similar to that of last year, and he hopes to get other games. The team will have plenty of good practice, for the High School is planning to put out a crack team this year.

What is needed now is consistent practice, and those who want a good base ball team will have to put base ball first and give up other things during base ball practice hours.

PRESIDENT GOES EAST

President Pennington leaves April 5 for a month's trip to the East. He expects to visit Penn College, from where he will go to Wabash, Indiana, to attend a re-dedicatory service in the church which he helped build while pastor of that meeting. Mr. Pennington is to attend meetings of the Board of Education and of the Executive Committee of the Five Years Meeting. Following this he is scheduled for five addresses before the Pastors' Alliance which meets at Emporia, Kansas, April 22-24. On his way home, President intends to visit Friends University at Wichita, Kansas. He expects to be away about four weeks.

PACIFIC MEN ATTEND Y. M. C. A. CONVENTION

Prominent Association Leader Address Interstate Meeting

The nineteenth annual convention of the Young Men's Christian Association of Oregon and Idaho was held in Portland on the fourth and fifth of April.

One of the most inspiring things of the convention was the opportunity to meet and hear some of the biggest men in Y. M. C. A. work. L. Wilbur Messer, A. E. Roberts, and Charles R. Towson were the most prominent visiting secretaries.

Splendid talks were given which made the Y. M. C. A. mean more to every man who heard them. World need, world opportunity, and Christian resources were emphasized, but especially the manly, Christlike, missionary spirit. The program for the following year was also discussed and agreed upon.

The men who attended from Pacific were Harold Lee, Cassius Carter, Ralph Knight, Cecil Pearson, Walter Cook, Carroll Tamplin, Hubert Armstrong and Prof. Perisho.

HOUSE PARTY HELD

The dormitory girls spent a most enjoyable week end at the home of Eva Miles, in Salem, from April 4 to 6. The fun began when Mr. Miles came for the girls and piled eight of them, along with hats, suit cases, etc., in a five passenger car. The ride into Salem was greatly enjoyed, the most characteristic exclamation heard was, "Keep off my feet."

Music, skating, popcorn and various other things were enjoyed Friday evening. The following day the court house, asylum and penitentiary were visited, although, much to the disappointment of the girls, entrance was refused to these institutions on Saturday. In the evening the hostess invited in some of her Salem friends. Music, jokes, and toasted marshmallows helped to make a jolly evening. Friends of Miss Olive Johnson will be interested in knowing that she accepted a proposal.

The girls had a delightful time and were reluctant to return Sunday.

Everyone goes around with a sniff and a handkerchief. As the professor said, "We doad like the Sprig."

PARTY GIVEN FOR FOURTH YEAR CLASS

Third Year Academy Class Entertain Academy Seniors

On Friday evening March 21, the Third year Academy class entertained the Fourth years at the home of Alfred Terrell. The first part of the evening was spent in playing "brand new" (?) games such as "Who's got the ring?" and "Winkum." The games were all of such nature that no one could help but enjoy himself.

The rooms were artistically decorated in purple and old gold, these being the colors of the Fourth year class. Just before refreshments were served a large glass bowl was brought in heaped with violets tied with old gold ribbon, and a large bouquet was given to each.

While brick ice cream and wafers were being served, the future of each Fourth year member was read by Helen Hester. The following states briefly what is to become of each one: Carroll Tamplin will manage to finish the Sophomore class in college and will then accept a position as private secretary to the manager of the Independent Cracker Co., but soon finding that he is too big for his position, will decide to marry the girl with whom he has been keeping company for the past six years.

The Misses Terrell, Hodgkin and Calkins, after taking a summer course at Whittier, California, will accept a paying position in the Orpheum Vaudeville Circuit.

Richard Haworth will decide to enter the ministry and after two weeks' training in extemporaneous speaking, will take the place of Prof. Shambaugh as pastor of the West Chehalem church. Here he will guide his flock faithfully for many years.

Mary Mills, upon finishing the Academy, will take up the glorious and beneficial work of the campaign against tobacco. She, being naturally a fiery speaker, will do a great work and become a national figure.

Francis Clark after studying for three years will become very proficient in the use of shorthand and will be engaged in reporting conventoins.

THE CRESCENT

The annual election of the Student Body has taken place, and this is the first issue of the Crescent published under the new staff. Indications are that it will also be the last one. In all probability it will be impossible to publish another edition, probably not even a commencement number. The new staff would enjoy very much to continue the publication, and they feel sure that it would do credit to the school, but for financial reasons this is impossible.

Almost every spring this trouble comes up. This year it is worse than it has ever been before. The Crescent is incurring a deficit for this issue; the issues cost twenty dollars a piece; all monies from student affairs fees and subscriptions are exhausted; the advertisers don't even pay half the cost. What are we to do?

The only answer that is feasible is: Don't run in debt; discontinue. That is what we shall have to do. Not only this year shall we be compelled to do this, but every year, for all available money is already obtained through advertising and subscriptions. It seems that the Crescent has been defeated by the rising cost of publication, and can no longer be a permanent institution.

There is only one way out. There is a way even yet to put our school paper on a permanent financial basis. The Student Body has shown its willingness to take this course. The faculty is now considering its advisability. At the last meeting of the Student Body, a resolution in favor of raising the student affairs fee to an amount sufficient to cover all possibilities was unanimously accepted and sent to the faculty. This was, that the student affairs fee be raised from two to three dollars a semester, and that seventy-five per cent of the increase should go to the Crescent.

Our student affairs fee is now exceptionally low. Three dollars a semester will only be nominal. The amount that the Crescent needs has been carefully computed and is not high or unreasonable. It will be sufficient to put the publication on a firm basis, and relieve the Manager of his worries over where the money for each issue is coming from.

It all depends on whether the faculty is willing to let us pay for the paper. The present Student Body has expressed its willingness to pay, and surely new students in future years can expect nothing else than to pay for activities that make Pacific a better college.

Is the Crescent worth anything to this college or is it not? Should it be discontinued or should it keep up the interest and expression of the student body, and be one of the most useful advertising agents that we have? Surely the continuation of the Crescent will be worth more than all the criticisms that the necessary rise in the student affairs fee will occasion.

TREFIANS STUDY ETIQUETTE

The program of the Trefian Literary Society given in the dormitory parlors on March 26, was devoted entirely to etiquette. Pauline Terrell gave a comprehensive and distinctly interesting talk on the subject, "Introductions." She gave not only the conventional rules governing introductions in our own country, but told of the customs observed in Europe which differ from ours.

Miss Wright spoke on "Table Etiquette." Her speech told us not only how to manage our food and our silver but also into what channel to divert table conversation. Louise Hodgkin gave some very helpful suggestions on "How a Girl Should Conduct Herself on the Street." She reminded us that our school and our own characters are judged by our behavior on the street, that good humor and high spirits are contagious and that others before us have overcome a bashful reluctance to speak to those of whom we stand in awe—faculty members and higher classmen.

A snappy, general discussion was held on "How to Conduct Oneself at a Formal or Informal Reception." The critic's report was necessarily short since the critic was suffering from an attack of Spring fever.

A remark from a witty young Third Year Prep: "Hubert is some kid. He's talking about getting a little field (Littlefield) and planting carrots on it."

Y. W. C. A. OFFICERS INSTALLED

Wednesday, March 19, witnessed the installation of the new Y. W. C. A. Cabinet. Miss Olive Johnson gave a short talk emphasizing the need of a feeling of personal responsibility on the part of each member of the Association. Miss Irene Hodgkin presided at the installation of officers. She then read the "Purpose" as adopted by all Student Young Women's Christian Associations, and impressed upon the minds of all our duty and privilege in fulfilling the best promise. This can be done only by relying on the promise contained in the Y. W. C. A. motto: "Not by might, nor by power, but by My Spirit, saith the Lord of Hosts."

Marjorie Brown, chairman of the Missionary Committee, had charge of the Y. W. C. A. meeting of March 26. She told of the very interesting work being done by the Young Women's Christian Associations in almost every quarter of the globe. In France foyers have been established for the munition workers. The workers in Russia are being recognized and encouraged by the government. Relief work has been carried on in practically every European country. In England efforts are being made to improve the living conditions of factory employees.

It was somewhat surprising to hear of the work done in China, Japan, India and South America. The Chinese girls have been active and distinctly adept in making surgical supplies. They have also been learning to fill positions in the business world which have been made vacant by war. In India secretaries are laboring to break down the caste system by teaching the women of all classes to work and play together. In South America home craft is being taught. Thus, whatever the country, whatever the need, heedless of danger, the Y. W. secretary is there to aid.

At Y. W. C. A. on April 2 Elizabeth Anderson presented the life of Mary Slessor and told of her inspiring work in Africa. Miss Slessor's early life was passed in poverty. While working as a weaver in a mill at Aberdeen, in Scotland, she was converted. While still a young woman she sailed for Africa, where most of her life was passed. Her faith in God and her absolute devotion to her duty make her noble life especially inspiring.

Professor Shambaugh had charge of the chapel exercises Friday, April 4. His subject was "Life Insurance" or as he said it might better be called "Life Assurance." God in His wisdom gives us only one day at a time, but we do not often take advantage of the fact but keep forever worrying about our Yesterdays and Tomorrows. If we could only forget the affairs of yesterday and live our best today our tomorrow will take care of itself. "Today is our Savior. It is often crucified between two thieves, Yesterday and Tomorrow."

LOCAL ITEMS

The dormitory club enjoyed an unusual treat occasioned by Eva Miles' birthday, on the evening of April 1. Two large angel food cakes which were laden with — (?) candles, honored Miss Miles' table and later ice cream was served. All present joined in wishing her many other birthdays.

Much to the delight of all concerned the study hour has been postponed from seven-thirty to eight o'clock.

On April 6, about 6:30 a. m., the third floor of Canyon Hall was the scene of much commotion, screeching and wailing. Alas!—Only a mouse in a bath tub!

There were just four of them that night. And they slept all night, more or less. There was a strong breeze blowing, and soft whispers flowing from the —. What was it? Ask fuzzy.

Mrs. Harold Hinshaw, a former member of the class of '20, was on the campus last week.

Marshal Jones, of Everett, Washington, was here Tuesday, visiting his cousin, Beulah Sickles, and Murray Gregory.

Miss Gladys Paulsen, who is attending school at U. of O., visited school one day last week.

Four-thirty a. m. is a most unearthly hour at which to arise! The girls of the dormitory did it and started for a hike at 5 a. m. Saturday, March 29. The boys were slow and did not get started until later. To see the sun rising over the Rex hills in all its springtime splendor was enough to amply repay for all sleep lost. Dundee was reached after six o'clock and a quick home run ensued. Did you ever find breakfast to be uninteresting after such a walk? Not one that bunch did, at least.

The greatest speed attained by anyone up to date in the C. D. in taking dictation is 120 words per minute, taken by both Frona Shain and Myrtle McDonald. Frona and Myrtle started the Commercial course last year.

In a preliminary speed test Melba Sanders typed 60 words a minute. This is the record for a speed test this year.

The President of the Y. M. C. A., Cecil Pearson, and the Secretary, Cassius Carter, are expecting to leave school in a few weeks to go to France. These men are just newly elected, and are not yet installed, so it has been decided to hold a new election before the installation.

Elmo Shannahan, formerly a student here, visited friends in school during the spring vacation of O. A. C.

The startling Y. W. C. A. poster last week was the creation of an artist who is a member of the Y. M. C. A.

Mr. and Mrs. Asa Sutton, accompanied by their two daughters, the Misses Sarah and Elizabeth Sutton, have been visiting Miss Mary Sutton this week.

Margaret Gill won from Clara Calkins 6-3, 6-1 in the girls' tournament.

President Pennington and Mr. Perisho took the early train Saturday, March 29, for Oregon City, armed with their fishing paraphernalia. They returned in the evening somewhat wearied—not caused, however, by carrying any great load of fish.

During the Spring vacation at Reed College, Miss Blanche Melling, of the class of '20, visited school.

Friday night, April 4, the faculty entertained themselves at the home of Pres. and Mrs. Pennington. The evening was spent with conversation and games. Apples and marshmallows were served. Those present were Pres. and Mrs. Pennington, Mr. and Mrs. Carter, Mr. and Mrs. Perisho, Mrs. Hull, Mrs. Hodgkin, Miss Sutton, Miss Johnson, Miss Wright, Mr. Shambaugh and Mr. Weesner.

When the good weather came Alden Sanders suffered an attack of spring fever that went to his feet. Accordingly he left school and hit for the hills. He expects to start in again next fall.

CRESCENT DISCUSSED

A short business meeting of the Student Body was held in the Academy study room on Tuesday, April 1. The meeting was held especially to discuss matters relative to the publication of the Crescent, and the first business was the report of the Crescent Manager for the year past.

Mr. Carter reported that all available funds had been obtained, and a balance of slightly over five dollars was left in the treasury. He also stated that the publication of the Crescent costs twenty dollars, and the next issue would leave a deficit.

At this point Harold Lee introduced the main business of the meeting: a resolution recommending that the proper college authorities be asked to allow an increase in Student Affairs' Fees at Pacific of one dollar a semester, at least 75 per cent of which increase was to go to the Crescent. This did not seem too much, as there are colleges in Oregon not any larger than Pacific which charge five dollars per semester for student affairs fees, and some as high as ten. After some further discussion the resolution was passed unanimously.

If granted by the authorities this is certainly a forward step, as it insures the permanence of the Crescent in future years, and does away with the difficulties which have been annually arising in reference to funds for its publication. A school paper is one institution which a college should maintain at its highest standard, and if this resolution is acted upon favorably, as it no doubt will be, the Crescent will be greatly benefitted.

Preceding adjournment, the Student Body also passed a motion to the effect that the last issue of the Crescent be paid for from the Student Body treasury, which is one of the contingencies it is hoped will not arise next year.

GIRLS' TENNIS COURT SCRAPED TENNIS ENTHUSIASM HIGH

The girls of P. C. are showing more than usual interest in tennis this Spring. The tennis court was in very poor condition this Spring but the girls with the true P. C. spirit decided that it could be cleaned and that they could do it. Fifteen girls armed with rakes, hoes, wheelbarrows and other implements, and with the aid of several boys and one faculty member scraped the court and got it into condition. More than half the girls in school play the game and the court is one of the liveliest places on the campus.

Great interest is being shown in regard to the tennis tournament. Eighteen girls signed up for it and there is promise of some pretty close matches. Last year the girls had two matches with McMinnville College, winning both at Mac and at P. C. Some matches will probably be scheduled this Spring and the girls are expecting to have a good tennis team.

nature, will grow tired of the slow life in Newberg and will go East to attend a finishing school. After completing his work there he will take up the duties of high society at Long Island. Mr. Bush, being handsome and accomplished, and because of his natural fitness, will become leader of New York's "four hundred."

George Upton, continuing his musical studies, will accept a position as organist in the largest theatre in Portland. He will enjoy the work, as he will then get to see all the new moving pictures. He will become involved in no less than four divorce scandals, but will never lose his good name.

Clinton Baron will become head of the Eugene Bible Institution and will be a well known author of many masterful religious works.

Miss Flora Campbell will be successful as a clothing agent to the natives of the South Sea Islands, and will soon have all the natives wearing collar buttons and suspenders.

Walter Cook, after a strenuous courtship of three years, will win to himself his fair young bride and immediately set sail with her as a missionary to the New Hebrides.

STUDENTS HIKE UP MOUNTAIN

One Friday evening after school ten college students, chaperoned by Miss O. Wilson, a Newberg High School teacher, started out on a hike. The day was bright and clear, ideal for hiking and taking pictures. The camera fiends got some good snap-shots. The hikers followed the road nearly straight up the mountain. From the high mountain road a beautiful view of the valley was seen, which made the climb very much worth while. After reaching a school house, they turned from the road, and scrambled down a steep canyon on the other side of the mountain, where an excellent spring of water was found. Going a little farther a bonfire was built and supper eaten. Baked beans, salad, sandwiches, buns, doughnuts and cheso pies disappeared rapidly. Soon after supper had been eaten a muffled whispering and snapping of twigs was heard in the underbrush, followed by cat calls and wild yells coming from the tree tops. Even the most timid exhibited no alarm. The chaperone did wonder, though, what those two boys were doing.

The roads were fairly good going up the mountain, but coming back there seemed to be an unusual number of mud puddles, judging by the splashing, feminine giggles and squeals heard.

Those who went on the hike were Esther Terrell, Irene Hodgkin, Anna Mills, Mary Pennington, Margaret Hodson, Lowell Edwards, Sewell Newhouse, Harold Lee, Cassius Carter and Cecil Pearson.
