TREFIAN ENTERTAIN AGORETON

The Agoreton Club was entertained by the Trefian Literary Society at the meeting of the latter club on Wednesday, March 15. The program was instructive in nature, but was made exceedingly pleasant (in more ways than one) by the way it was rendered.

The program was a lesson in demonstrated etiquette. The entire course of a formal dinner was enacted, explained, and eaten by the members of the Trefian for the enlightenment of the visitors. Miss Miles made a very gracious hostess, Ann Silver was a success as an elderly lady, and Daisee Leffler and Mary Elliott as gentlemen wore their clothes well, although they both experienced some difficulty in finding the pockets in their coat tails. The reception of the guests, the arrangements of the table, and the conduct of the guests at dinner were all very fully explained and correctly carried out.

After the program refreshments were served, and an informal time was greatly enjoyed. The Agoretons no doubt felt greatly indebted to the Trefians for a lesson in which they are decidedly interested.

ELLIS BEALS A. S. B. PRESIDENT

The annual Student Body elections occurred March 16. The following officers were elected: President, Ellis H. Beals; vice president, George Upton; secretary, Pauline Terrell; treasurer, Lester Perisho; editor of Crescent, Anna Mills, assistant editor, Ruth Mellinger; business manager, Byron Kenworthy; circulation manager, Leroy Frasier; forensics manager, Murray Gregory; yell leader, Vernon Bush.

Following the elections the above officers were installed, after which Ellis Beals spoke of the prospect of Pacific's becoming a standard college and the responsibility of each student to boost for Pacific.

It is reported that the local High School is to make an "Armenian Drive" in the near future. Students, remember that "big foot ball." Let's help bring it down to Newberg Hi!

Miss Mildred Ferguson, a former Pacific College student, attended chapel Tuesday.

ELLIOTT, BASKET BALL CAPTAIN FOR 1920-21

"It doesn't take wine when women are around to have a good time" were the strains of music to which the basket ball squad met down at "Hoddie's" last Monday evening for the regular after season "blow-out" and election of next year's captain.

The "get-together," coming just after the Agoreton meeting was sufficiently delayed by the tardiness of two fellows belonging to that society to give the other fellows a chance to hear about all of "Emory's" Pathe records. The consensus of opinion seems to be that they are all good, as is his ice cream and cake.

When all began to feel as if they were about to do what the name of that favorite dish indicates, "banana-split," it occurred to Captain Frank Colcord that perhaps the time had come to be thinking about the future captain. A general discussion of the men eligible ensued and by general and unanimous consent the honor was conferred on Paul Elliott for the season of 1920-21. The prospects for the future of the team look very good since the majority of the fellows are young and another year will see them stronger for experience and team work. The loss of Captain Colcord will be greatly felt by each man on the squad as he has been a long and faithful member of it as well as a mighty good friend of every fellow who has ever played with him. His clean, fine, heady playing has made a record in basket ball that any man might envy and has made him many friends among opposing teams.

Surely with such an example set for them, every man left on the squad will put up a greater fight for old Pacific next year and "bring home the bacon."

ORATORICAL CONTEST

On Friday evening, March 12, the annual business meeting and contest of the Inter-Collegiate Oratorical Association was held at Pacific University. Miss Dorothy Jane Hall, out-going President of the Association, presided at the contest in which representatives from Willamette University, Pacific College, Eugene Bible University, University of Oregon, McMinnville College, Pacific University, Oregon Agricultural College and Oregon State Normal School took part. The orations were all of a very high quality and were well delivered. Fred Coley, of the University of Oregon, won first place with an oration entitled "Call No Man Common." O. A. C. won second place with "The Camel's Nose in America's Tent," given by W. P. Black. McMinnville College won third place and Eugene Bible University fourth.

About a dozen ardent boosters from P. G. drove over to give Chisung Pil, Pacific's orator, all the backing possible.

Gladys Scott and Anna Mills were entertained with a chicken dinner by Esther Terrell, Sunday. Among the attractive dishes served was a large cake with frosting nearly an inch thick.

GIRLS' GLEE CLUB

The Girls' Glee Club of Pacific College will make its long looked-for appearance next Thursday evening. The program will be varied and interesting. Several very clever and humorous numbers will be given by girls in costume. Miss Miles and Mr. Taylor will each give instrumental music, and Professor Hull has promised to let us hear his 'cello "if the spirit moves him at just that time." Though the Club practice has been hindered by illness, the girls have done excellent work and the concert will be a treat to the College community.

ATHLETIC CALENDAR

One of the big events of the spring time is prophesied to take place in the near future. Old Sol's smiles last week had a most remarkable effect on the basket ball squad when they met down at "Hoddie's." Some unknown rumor drifted around that the squad was to take a hike soon and there might be ladies allowed. At least Coach Lewis was mightily in favor of the women. He even offered to furnish the ladies' chaperon if the fellows would stand for it. Oh! why does it keep on raining?

Don't forget that April 1st is loud sock day.

IT HAPPENS IN JAPAN

"It Happens in Japan" was the play that delighted a Newberg audience last Friday night in the college auditorium, being presented by the girls of the local Young Women's Christian Association.

When the curtains lifted at eight o'clock exposing a beautifully decorated stage in oriental style with sixteen Japanese maidens and their parasols of many colors, the audience was inwrapped with the beauty of the oriental scene and costumes. Not for one minute did interest lag for the spectators from the time the drill began until the final drop of the curtain.

The song by the trio received many favorable comments among the hearers. While the thirty minute visit to that far away country by means of the camera and reflectoscope brought home to each one present the terrible conditions under which the children and students have to live.

The play following the "picture visit" across the Pacific gave a most realistic setting. The mental insinuating of "Saki," the little maiden of humble parentage, by the radical suffrage literature sent in to her country from America, the trouble these ill-founded ideals got her into at the girls' school, were most real and gripping. The stabbing of her insulter was the logical outcome of such thinking and the future in prison looked very dark for "Saki." Had not a friend of hers become acquainted with the Y. W. C. A. and brought her a little Testament. From the pages in that little book she discovered her mistake in life and set about to correct it.

After many years she was set free and established a home for girls, which through the aid of the Y. W. became a powerful force in the life of her country.

As the people came down stairs Friday, the 19th, from the program, they thought they were leaving Ja-

"You seem to hate that fellow Smith," said Brown. "What is the trouble between you and him?"

"I introduced him to my wife the other day," replied Jones, "and the gabby boob had to say: 'Why, I thought that the lady you were with in New York was your wife.'" Cincinnati Enquirer.

EDITORIAL

With this issue, the new Crescent staff is installed. Our reporters have been carefully selected and we hope to be able to continue the coming year to make the Crescent well worth while. However, its success does not depend solely and absolutely upon the staff but it depends greatly upon the loyalty of the whole student body as well as the patrons and subscribers. We shall always be appreciative of constructive criticism or suggestions.

A rumor has been circulated recently that Pacific is to have Mayday this year. This is not the regular time, as it is held only every two years, and should have been observed last year, but owing to the influenza, it was thought best not to attempt it. Mayday is one of the college's oldest customs and should not be abolished, for it is through these customs that the college spirit is kept up. If plans are to be made for Mayday this year, they should soon be developing as only a short time remains in which to prepare.

Y. M. C. A.

W. F. Rouse, of the Portland Y. M. C. A., gave a talk in Y. M. Wednesday, March 17. His subject was "The Growth of Y. M. C. A. in Portland." He handled his subject well and made it very interesting as well as instructive.

The meeting on Wednesday, March 24, was given over to personal testimony and special music. It was a very snappy and inspiring meeting. The testimonial meetings should have better attendance for out of them to a large degree come the best things which a fellow gets from Y. M. work.

It might be interesting to some to know that Pacific College is accredited by the State Y. M. officers of having the liveliest Y. M. organization in the Willamette Valley. Come on, fellows, let's make it better yet.

Y. W. C. A. ELECTS AND INSTALLS

On March 17, the Y. W. election of officers took place. The new officers are: President, Esther Terrell; vice president, Melba Sanders; secretary, Pauline Terrell; treasurer, Clara Calkins. The new committee chairmans are: Religious meetings, Majorie Brown; social service, Harriett Hodgkin; world fellowship, Gladys Scott; social, Eva Miles; music, Flora Campbell.

The girls also voted as to whether or not the amendment concerning admission requirements should be accepted. They decided in favor of a new amendment.

The new officers were installed on March 24. Before the installation, a special vote of thanks was extended to Majorie Brown, former chairman of the world fellowship committee, and to the members of of her committee for their work on the Japanese pageant.

A small party of popular music enthusiasts were entertained at Mrs. V. T. Hinshaw's Saturday evening. That every one present had a very enjoyable time was agreed on, at an early hour when "the sing" adjourned.

GIRLS AT AGORETON

The men's Agoreton Society unconsciously and without intention very successfully entertained the Ladies' Glee Club last Monday night. Many rumors had been abroad concerning the concluding number of the Agoreton program and these, along with their love for adventure, prompted the girls to quietly tip-toe to the chapel balcony where they concealed themselves. There in every imaginable pose the girls waited. Lucky for these spectators that boys are not quiet creatures! The frequent giggles that leaked out and the suppressed coughing passed by without notice. So thoroughly enjoyable was the entertainment that it was barely possible to refrain from applause. It is said that success makes bold and so it was. When the girls were feeling particularly triumphant one young lady became too daring and peered over the bannister. A wild scramble ensued but as soon as the boys found who the intruders were everyone went home happy.

FUNNY BONES

There once was a comely old maid
Who to get her a husband essayed.
She began this leap year
Her hunt far and near;
Goodness knows when she'll land the poor blade.

(R. D.) That new cook has a bad habit of dropping pans.

(Miss Johnson) Is her name
Pansy?

(Bright Student) Her name is Pansy and she has the dropsy.

The girl's lips quivered, and her breath came in labored gasps. But she did not speak.

"Do you love me?" pleaded the young man.

"I—I don't know," was the answer.

Gently he placed his arm around her neck.

"Darling, would you like me to ask your mother, first?"

With a sudden cry of terror she grasped his arm.

"No! No!" she shrieked convulsively; "she's a widow. I want you myself."—Omaha News.

(News Item)—Mr. Blank stepped on a banana peel and fell, suffering
a severely fractured arm.

We wonder what he would have done had he stepped on a Chisung Pill.

We have heard a great deal during the late war about the Prussian Military ring. We venture to say that the Kaiser wore the ring on his own finger.

Prof. Weesner (explaining Analytical Geometry problems)—Now that we have a satisfactory solution for this one, we will go down to "I"
and see what we can do there.

There once was a girl quite contrary,
Who swore that she never would marry;

But alas, she did scan
A "spiffy" young man,
And about broke her neck in her hurry.

SURPRISE!

A number of Academy students had a surprise party for Cecil and Frederick Hinshaw Saturday evening, March 20. The party met on First and Meridian streets, in spite of the stormy weather. When the silent, dripping crowd filed into the hall, complete dismay was exhibited by the younger members of the family. Music and games were the principal amusements of the evening. Cake and ice cream served promptly at 10:30, with pleasant adieux exchanged immediately after were also intensely interesting.
Those present were: Misses Irene Hodgin, Frances Elliott, Nina Coffee, Martha Ehret, Cora Younger, Cecil Larson, Delight Carter, Daisee Leffler, Messrs. Cecil Hinshaw, Frederick Hinshaw, Alfred Terrell, Murray Gregory, Hubert Armstrong, Horace Terrell.

AGORETON

The Agoreton Club held its regular meeting Monday, March 5, in Wood-Mar Hall. Nearly all the members were on hand, together with several visitors and new members. Beside the usual business of the club, the following program was given:

Springtime poems....Lester Perisho
Humanatone Solo...Richard Haworth
Parliamentary Drill.....Secretary
Scene from Shakespeare.....

Mrsrs. Paul Elliott, Horace Terrell, and M. Gregory.

The last number was given from the stage in the auditorium, and the presence of several unexpected feminine guests in the gallery added
 zest to the performance.

The membership of the club has nearly doubled since its organization, and the meetings are thoroughly enjoyed by everyone.

The college Freshman Class defeated Pacific Academy in a tennis tournament Thursday evening, March 24. Both teams played well and although the score in sets was 2-1, it was by no means a walkaway for the Freshmen. The representatives were: Academy—Alfred and Horace Terrell. Freshmen—Lowell
Edwards and Chisung Pil.

Paul Elliott was elected captain of the base ball team by the base ball letter men Tuesday evening after a short business meeting of the Men's Athletic Association. The matter of building a new tennis court was discussed and favorably acted upon,
with the recommendation that a fee
of one dollar be assessed from each member to meet the expense incurred.

President Mills has been released from his duties as president of the college to enable him to take charge of the endowment campaign for Pacific. In his absence Prof. Perisho will direct the affairs of the institution.

Meade G. Elliott, a member of the class of '16, was a college visitor March 22. Mr. Elliott is secretary of the boys' work in the city Y. M.
C. A. of Seattle.

Charles E. Gibson, pastor of the Methodist church of this city, addressed the students in chapel March 22. In treating his subject, "The Glory of Youth," he helped us to appreciate the fact that we are still young and impressed us with the possibilities that lie in our future if the right path is taken, adding that the only right way is that followed by Christ.

Rev. George H. Lee, of the Presbyterian church, has been secured to assist the Faculty in carrying on the extra work devolved upon them by the absence of President Mills.

It might be well for the dormitory to issue a casualty list, for not less than four persons are ill each day,
perhaps not always the same ones,
but unfortunately always some one.

THE FRESHMEN CELEBRATE

The Pacific Freshmen must have felt the irresistable power which Spring has of bringing out everything green. At any rate they "budded out" in all their glory, Saturday evening, March 20, at a house party at the home of Clara Calkins.

The fun began at seven-thirty and although the chaperons were a few minutes late, they were forgiven.
The first thing in order was descriptions. The ladies were assembled in one room and the men in another and each individual was given the name of some person about whom he or she was to write a description.
As a prize was to be given for the best one much time and freshmen brains were used. The following description of Professor Lewis won the prize:

He's right jolly and gay,
So the ladies all say;
And as for his knowledge—
'Tis the greatest in college.
But alas, girls, too late!
He's already met his fate.

Everything was done from playing pansy to making dresses for the ladies out of newspapers and pins.
Some of the men displayed a great deal of talent at this latter occupation and the ladies were quite proud of their frills and ruffles.

But they had very little time in which to admire them for the whole party was divided into groups, each group having charge of preparing some part of the refreshments, which were served at tables in the form of a banquet. The first course consisted of salad and sandwiches, the second of pineapple whip. George Upton, president of the class, was toast master, and a great many jokes as well as smiles were cracked.

The class all join in voting the Calkins family first class entertainers and even the chapeons thought that feshmern parties are the best
the school produces.

The annual Y. W. C. A. Cabinet
Conference is to be held at Corvallis
April 2-3-4. The Y. W. of Pacific College is entitled to delegates representing the head of each committee and a faculty member. A very interesting program has been scheduled and a full attendance is desired.

"Soup" Newhouse, a member of the 1919 class, visited college Wednesday. He is taking a course at O. A. C. but is now enjoying spring vacation.

Harriette Perrill has come to realize this is indeed a great age. She celebrated her birthday for two days. Tuesday she was guest of honor at a spread and Wednesday
she had a birthday dinner in courses
at Miss Miles' table.

spending a few days in Newberg.
She visited with Dora Dunbar at the

Alfred Terrell, Murray Gregory
and Lowell Edwards made a busi-

noon, during the second period.

It is nearing the time for spring house cleaning, so in order that the boys may become accustomed to the exertion necessary in the execution of this operation they have been assigned the work of scrubbing the dining room floor every week.

Helen Mendenhall returned Sunday evening from her long crusade against the dread "Flu" and the disfiguring mumps which had attacked her sister's family. She says she is extremely happy to be back and intends to finish her business course in spite of an absence of six weeks.

pan but found they were just entering it. For along one side of the hall, arranged on tables before them lay a fine display of models of travel, of living and of dress, truly all Japanese. These fifteen dolls, representing different classes of Japanese citizens, were dressed by a little girl in Osaka and brought to America when Miss Scott came back last spring.

"The baby traveler wears this around his neck to help locate him, should he wander off," they were told by the girl at the table as she showed them a silk purse containing a name and address, and fixed with ribbon to tie around the neck.

Who can doubt that Japanese take off their shoes as they enter the house after seeing that little row of sandals lined up by the door of the miniature hall which was certainly Japanese for there hung the scroll on the wall.

The kitchen, with the queer brush brooms, rice buckets, charcoal stoves and other furnishings was just as truly Japanese.

The beds were simple soft "futons" or mattresses, rolled up and stored in a closet by day. The only seat a Japanese requires is his long suffering heels. A chest of drawers, very much like a chiffonir, completed the bed room suite.

The water color paintings of Japanese women at various tasks were very interesting as well as enlightening.

"Young man," said the fond father, "in giving you my daughter, I have intrusted you with the dearest treasure of my life."

The young man was duly impressed. Then, during the few minutes of impressive silence that followed, he heard the patter of rain against the window pane.

Tim—I've got to work hard next year.

Tam—Why, aren't you coming back to college?—Gargoyle.

"Brown acknowledges that he knows nothing about women."

"What an immense experience with them he must have had."—Boston Transcript.

Wanted—By the dorm girls, a stray man; to be shot at sun rise—Any day.

The college campus resounded with singularly sweet music to the accompaniment of a strumming mandolin Sunday evening, such as has not been heard there for a long time.
