LETTER CLUB MEN GIVE SOCIAL IN HONOR OF FORMER COACH

Official Club Pin and Membership Is Presented Him

The Gold "P" club presented Professor R. W. Lewis with an honorary membership and a gold club pin at a social given in his honor at Wood-Mar Hall Saturday night, November 18.

The social, the first which the club has given this year, was held in the old academy study room, which was tastefully decorated for the occasion with college pennants, banners, cushions and streamers. The lights, which were covered with old gold and navy blue shades, sent rays of the college colors throughout the room, and the athletic equipment for the various sports and felt award letters belonging to the club members were placed in conspicuous places.

Entertainment for the evening was furnished by a variety of indoor sports. Placed in all parts of the room were tables for games, which consisted of caroms, crokinole, checkers, nine-pins, tiddle-de-winks, ping-pong, and quoits. Ping-pong proved to be the most popular sport of the evening. Several of the ladies present excelled in the game, and even defeated some of Pacific's most famous athletes. Quoits, however, was distinctly a gentleman's game. In the rest of the games the players were pretty evenly matched and were kept rotating from one table to another in order that each might have an opportunity to demonstrate his prowess.

After refreshments were served, Cecil R. Hinshaw, letter-club president, gave a short speech in which he presented the official club pin to Professor Lewis. Mr. Hinshaw said that he felt it an honor for a man who has coached as many teams as has Professor Lewis, a great many of them championship teams, to accept a membership in the Gold "P" club. "Our victories have been his victories and our defeats his defeats," asserted the club president. "He has always been one of us. I consider it an honor to present him with the club membership."

The guests and the club members who were present at the social were: Professor and Mrs. R. W. Lewis, Miss Clarke, Olive Terrell, Grace Crew, Helen Nordyke, Ruth Carpenter, Ivadell Crozer, Esther Haworth, Florence Lee, Delight Carter, Wendell Woodward, Horace Terrell, Brooks Terrell, Hubert Armstrong, Davis Woodward, Cecil R. Hinshaw, Eldon Everest, Walter Cook.

Clarence Wilde and Gerald Pearson attended a light opera at the Portland auditorium last Sunday afternoon.

ALBANY GETS TWO TOUCHDOWNS IN FIRST HALF, BUT IS HELD SCORELESS FOR THE BALANCE OF GAME

The Pacific College football eleven was defeated by the more experienced Albany College team on the Albany field, Saturday, November 25, in the hardest fought game of the season, the final score being 12 to 0. The game was close throughout as the score will indicate but the majority of the players on the opposing team were men of either high school or college football experience, and consequently they had the advantage.

The first half started with P. C. receiving the ball on the ten-yard line from which it was carried to the twenty yard line. From here they made first downs, but lost the ball on the forty-yard line. Albany also made first downs and lost the ball, and from then until the middle of the second quarter, the game was a see-saw affair. By this time, however, the Southerners had learned what plays were most successful, and by a series of clever fake plays and end runs aided by good interference, they managed to cross the line two minutes before the half ended. They failed to kick goal and the score was 6-0.

The second half opened with Albany on the offensive. They returned the ball to the forty-seven yard line and before the Quakers could find themselves, they forced the ball over for a second touchdown. This ended the scoring as the goal was missed and, for the remainder of the quarter, neither team made consistent gains. The P. C. players were determined that there was to be no more scoring on the part of their opponents and, during the last quarter, they kept the ball in Albany's territory most of the time. At one time Pacific reached the twenty-yard line, but was unable to break through the opposing defense for further gains. If the Quakers had played the style of ball throughout the whole game that was played during the fourth quarter, the score would have been different; but the Albany players were very clever, both on the offensive and defensive and it took the visitors some little time to become acquainted with their tactics.

This closes Pacific's football season, and, although all three of the games were lost, the progress of the team has been far from disappointing. Starting with almost entirely green material, Coach Jones has developed an eleven which plays very good ball and the fellows deserve a good deal of praise for the work they have done. They made a better showing in the game at Albany than at any other time this season and, with the added experience, Pacific should be able to break into the winning column next fall.

The line-up for the Albany game follows:

DR. W. B. HINSON GIVES FIRST VOCATIONAL ADDRESS

The series of vocational addresses which Pacific College is planning to have each Tuesday, during the regular chapel hour, opened on Tuesday, November 21, with an address by Dr. W. B. Hinson of the East Side Baptist church of Portland, who spoke in emphasis of the ministry as a life work. Dr. Hinson is an eloquent speaker, and master of the subject with which he dealt.

Besides the regular student body a good number of visitors were present. President Pennington, in introducing Dr. Hinson, emphasized the fact that visitors are always welcome to the chapel exercises; and especially is the public invited to attend the series of Tuesday morning addresses now being given at the college.

Dr. Hinson entitled his address "The Road to Jericho." In opening his address Dr. Hinson said that he had supposed he was coming among Friends when he came to Newberg,

JUNIOR CLASS STAGES FINE CAMP FIRE PARTY

After a deal of scrambling the juniors collected themselves and their chaperones on the south step of the college last Friday evening, ready to hike. After some parley it was agreed to go to Johnson's woods and rest by the murmuring stream.

Eventually the crowd was off, peanuts and apples in each hand which was warm enough to bear the gentle breeze. In good time an arrival was effected and then the crowd scrambled for firebrands and toasting forks, before the forbidding darkness should close down for the night. A cozy fire was built and everyone settled down to toast the various sides of his anatomy. Each one was firmly convinced by personal experience, that smoke follows beauty.

At length some bacon appeared ready to be toasted and buns, ready to receive the dripping morsels were brought out. That there are good cooks in the junior class was evidenced by the rapid disappearance

PROGRAM IS GIVEN TO SWELL FUNDS FOR RELIEF DRIVE

$47.78 Is Total Receipts of Student Friendship Campaign

The Friendship Fund drive culminated on November 17 with the presentation of a benefit entertainment by Pacific College students and faculty. The drive resulted in a total receipt of $47.78. Of this amount $29.76 was collected from the sale of benefit program tickets; $18.02 from self-denial contributions.

The benefit entertainment consisted of the following numbers:

Stringed orchestra, Alexander Hull directing, "Warum," R. Schuman; "Salut d'Amour," Elgar.

"A Practical Joke," stunt; Florence Heater, Robert Shattuck, Floyd Lienard.

Piano solo, Grace Crew; "Fifth Nocturne," Leybach.

Riley Readings, "When de Folks Is Gone," Lucille Johnson; "Up and Down Old Brandywine," Davis Woodward; "Tree Toad," Walter Cook; "Almost Beyond Endurance," Lucille Clough; characterizations, Florence Lee.

Vocal solo, Johanna Gerritz, "A Maying."

Piano duet, Alexander Hull, Eva Hummer Hull, "Rondo," Gurlett.

Dramatization, "Charge of the Light Brigade," Perry Macy, Davis Woodward, Howard Nottage, Richard Haworth, Royal Gettmann, Clifton Parrett, H. P. Mills.

The rapid movement of the entertainment and the unique and high-toned program features won appreciative interest from an audience of about two hundred. The "hit" of the evening was the dramatization of the "Charge of the Light Brigade" by a group of college fellows on Kiddie Kars.

During Friendship week the denying oneself the luxuries of college life was popularized by curiosity posters, catchy announcements and chapel talks. Quarters and dimes, which during other weeks would have been spent for candy, hair-nets, trips home, paper, etc., were propped into the jar "for students of other lands." Two dollars saved on a concert ticket was the best self-denial contribution reported.

The College Y. M. and the Girl Reserves of the Newberg high school joined with the College Y. W. C. A. in the Friendship campaign which was directed by Lucille Clough, Y. W. world fellowship committee chairman, and Flora Campbell, U. R. The sale of tickets for the benefit program was managed by John Elford.

The money contributed to the Friendship fund has been sent to European students who are sacrificing the very necessities of life in order to pursue their studies.

SOMETHING IS WRONG

Why not abolish the organization of the student body? Is the organization worth while? Realizing that the student body of Pacific College is a unit composed of every student of the academy, commercial and college departments, and that this unit directly controls the publicity of the Crescent, the forensic events, the May Day festivities, relief drives and numerous other things, any one of which helps to place the college before the public, by no means should the student organization be abolished.

Considering the above facts, why should the attendance at student body meetings be so small? At times the number present is scarcely enough to constitute a quorum. The time was, when capacity crowds attended the meetings which were held in the academy study hall. Such crowds can only be attained now by called meetings after chapel and then too often, there is insufficient time to transact the business carefully.

At the student body meeting which was called for the election of a yell leader and to provide for awards for our orators and debaters the attendance was pitifully small. Are not the students of Pacific interested enough in backing her athletic and forensic events to come and help appoint the yell leader and provide for a system of awards for her orators and debaters?

Something is wrong! Is the cause of the apparent lack of interest in student affairs and meetings due to incompetent officers? The officers were elected by the student body at large and may be recalled if they prove incapable. Then, small attendances must be due to a lack of individual responsibility and interest among the students.

Observation shows that as a general rule the proportional majority of those responding to the call of the president to student body meetings are academy students. Why is the college representation so small? Are in student affairs than college students? If such is the case, it should not be.

Let every student in Pacific feel an added responsibility and interest in the student body meetings that our records might show the majority wish of the students in all business transactions and that our meetings may be more interesting and instructive.

DORM DOPE

On Saturday evening November 18, the girls' dormitory was open for inspection by the Ladies' Auxiliary. On the door of each room was a name supposedly fitting the atmosphere within the respective rooms. The various names were: Hermit's Retreat, Izzy Inn, Come Inn, Wind-Blow Inn, Tucker Inn, Welcome Inn, A Cheerful Place for Everybody, Mosey Inn, Chatter Inn, Multshastin and Frozen Inn. A piece of chalk was hidden in one of the inns. A reward awaited the one who found it, and is still waiting. Various original signs adorned the walls of the rooms, and afforded the visitors much enjoyment.

"Dutched Rooms" is getting to be an old story. The next victim shall receive her just reward.

Lucille Clough and Flora Campbell wanted to pay their respects to Rigoletto so sent a charming bouquet of dainty flowers up to him by two of the ushers. Rigoletto was too busy then elsewhere so Miss Clark, thinking the girls meant the flowers for the company said, "Oh, this is just lovely, I'll give the flowers to the ladies."

Babe Tucker was ready for lyceum and was trying to find out if all the girls who were to usher, were ready. Just as she called Louise, the phone rang. Louise, thinking the phone call for her, answered quickly, "Hello!" "Who is this?" came the response. "Louise Nelson," she replied. "I was wanting Helen Nordyke," was the next remark. It happened that Helen had come in just as Louise said "Hello." Imagine the looks and feelings of the two girls at the phone and the young man on the other end of the line. We think Louise would make a good telephone girl, don't you?

The dorm girls were all out to see the football team off Saturday. Pep was surely there in full force. Four large sacks of popcorn accompanied by juicy red apples were given them just before they started. A new song to the tune of "Abie" set pep going.

Y. M. AND Y. W. C. A. HOLD A VESPER SERVICE

After a series of prayer meetings each morning at 7:45 for one week, a vesper service was given in the chapel by the Y. W. and Y. M. Even Nature contributed its part. It was just growing dusk, and the rays from the setting sun as they shone through the windows seemed in harmony with the low, melodious strains from the piano. Mrs. Conover read the scripture lesson as the soft music was played. Harriett Hodgins introduced the speaker, Mr. Woodward, who gave a very inspirational talk. Walter Cook, Y. M. president, led the prayer service, in which a great many participated.

Y. W. Mission study classes have been started. The classes are centering their interests on Africa this year. The academy girls, under the leadership of Olive Armstrong, are studying the life and works of Robert Moffet, and the college girls, under the leadership of Mrs. Pennington, will study up-to-date conditions in Africa.

Audrey Chenoweth entertained with a delightful little party for the dorm girls Saturday evening. After some games, part of which caused an impediment in everyone's speech, good things to eat were brought forth for all. At length the girls departed to their respective abodes after leaving their calling cards.

MRS. CARL MILLER SPEAKS AT Y. W.

On Wednesday, November 15, Mrs. Carl Miller gave the Y. W. girls a very inspirational talk. The service was a continuation of the series on "The Ideal Girl." The speaker portrayed the ideal girl from outward appearance, compared to the girl who was not ideal in actions, in dress, in facial expression and appearance, and in speech, both at home and in public.

On November 22 another meeting on the "Ideal Girl" was given. Mrs. Smith portrayed the ideal girl from the spiritual side. Her talk was intensely interesting. She compared the ideal girl to a bride, saying the girl had the right to make the choice in being a bride to Christ just as she has her choice on earth. In Rev. 19:7-8, she found that the wedding dress was to be of pure linen, and in John 3:3, "Lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven" (hope-chest). She told of the preparation before hand, of the dates (communion) and the letters (the Bible) and lastly revealed afresh that the time of the wedding and the actual appearing of the bridegroom was drawing nearer.

FOOTBALL MEN ARE TO BE INITIATED INTO LETTER CLUB

It was decided at a meeting of the Gold "P" club held last Monday that the football letter men should be initiated into the club at once, instead of letting them wait until the last of the spring term as has been the custom. The exact date of initiation has not been decided upon as yet, but a committee has been appointed to start making plans immediately for the event.

The football men who are to brave the dangers of the ceremony are: Wilfred Crozer, Walter Stanbrough, Richard Haworth, Homer Hester, Philip Haworth Clifton Parrett, Alfred Everest and David Ellis.

LYCEUM COMPANY GIVE OPERA PROGRAM

The Mary Adel Hays company who formerly entertained the people of the community from the Chautauqua platform, delighted them again by their appearance last Thursday night in the first number of the winter's lyceum course.

They presented two scenes from the opera Rigoletto, the garden scene and the last closing scenes. The effect of their splendid singing and acting was heightened by their costumes and stage settings which they brought with them. Aside from the general feeling that the murder was far from convincing the audience had little but praise for the performers.

The remainder of the program was of lighter nature but no less pleasing. Miss Hays' bird songs with flute accompaniment were remarkable since her clear tones could scarcely be distinguished from those of the flute.

The baritone, Mr. Wainman, charmed his hearers as he had done earlier in the role of Rigoletto, and both the contralto, Miss Richards, and the tenor, Mr. Schell, satisfied their admirers. Miss Clark, the pianist, played several piano and flute solos which were heartily encored.

For variety the company gave a colonial minuet written by Louis VI which was daintily and lightly executed. They also presented the singing lesson scene from the "Daughter of the Regiment" in such a manner as to carry their audience quite away into the spirit of the affair. A bit from "Floradora," presented here before, was given as an encore, and pleased both old and new friends.

The auditorium of Wood-Mar Hall was well filled and judging by the flattering attention and eager applause given the performers the audience was very well pleased. It seems safe to predict a successful delightful season for the lyceum course.

Y. M. C. A. HOLDS A FINANCE MEETING

The finance committee had charge of Y. M. on Wednesday, November 22, C. F. Hinshaw acting as leader. The budget system of the Y. M. was first explained, after which the fellows present were asked to pledge whatever they could afford to give. The budget for the year's expenses was placed at one hundred twenty-five dollars and although not more than two-thirds of the men in school were present, the sum of eighty-five dollars was pledged. Those who were not present will be canvassed later and it is expected that the full amount will be raised without much trouble.

GIPSY PROGRAM GIVEN BY THE TREFIANS

The Trefian literary society was entertained with a very interesting gipsy program Wednesday, November 15. Hazel Newhouse gave the history of the wandering gipsy tribe from their original home, which is now believed to be India, through their many wanderings in Europe and America. Florence Lee and Lucille Logston as gipsies, tripped lightly into the room, sang a true gipsy song and skipped away again. The spirit of this ever wandering people was brought forth in a poem read by Florence Heater. Alice Laudien completed the program with the always enjoyable story of "Maggie and the Gipsies," taken from Elliot's "The Mill on the Floss."

PACIFIC WILL HAVE A STRONG BASKET BALL TEAM

That Pacific's prospects for a winning basketball team this year are exceedingly good is generally felt throughout the student body. Coach Jones is not prepared to pass judgment as yet, since he has not seen any of the basketball men in action, but he reports that he is highly pleased with the fight that the football men have shown and is expecting great things from the basketball team.

Three of last year's varsity men are gone, but with two letter men from the team of 1920-21 to fill their places and an abundance of new material to work with, the team will be very much stronger than it was last season, and will probably equal the crack team which Pacific put out two years ago. The letter men in school this year are: C. R. Hinshaw, Cook, H. Terrell, and Armstrong. W. Crozer, Conway, Woodward, B. Terrell and R. Haworth are also players of some experience and may be depended upon to strengthen the team.

It is rumored that Albany College is not so optimistic as Pacific. According to reports she has lost practically all of her last year's team and will be forced to depend altogether on new material. This is a serious handicap. Linfield College will probably feel rather keenly the loss of Coe, their center, and B. Larson, star forward, but with Bliss and Miller to fill the positions they will still have a strong combination. Pacific University and Philomath have not been heard from. It is supposed that they will have practically the same line-ups as they had last season.

P. C. will start regular squad practice at the conclusion of the class tournaments which are to be played next week. The first week of practice says the coach will be devoted to game fundamentals, such as footwork, bounce passing, and offensive and defensive team combinations. A number of pre-season games will be played, but these have not as yet been scheduled. Pacific's basketball schedule as it now stands is as follows:

Monmouth, Jan. 5, at Newberg.
Linfield, Jan. 12, at McMinnville.
Monmouth, Jan. 19, at Monmouth.
Philomath, Jan. 25, at Newberg.
Linfield, Feb. 2, at Newberg.
Philomath, Feb. 9, at Philomath.
Albany, Feb. 10, at Albany.
Albany, March 2, at Newberg.

"Sir," said the beggar plaintively, "the good Lord gave me a stomach."
"Well, what of that?" demanded the passer-by, sourly.
"Wouldn't you like to round out His gift?"

Fido—"Did you have a good football team at Bowwow College?"

Rover—"Sure did! Pointer played scenter, the Bulldog brothers were tackles, Mastiff and Shepherd were guards, the Terriers played end, St. Bernard was fulldog, Spaniel and Spitz were halfdogs and Pekinese was quarterdog."

CLASS TOURNAMENT TO BE PLAYED SOON

Basketball class tournaments will start Monday after Thanksgiving, says Coach Jones. It is probable, he says that there will be five teams entered in the contests. One from the academy, one from the freshmen, one from the sophomores, one from the juniors and seniors, and one from the faculty. It is expected that there will be some keen competition this year judging from the number of teams which are confident of the championship. The freshmen athletes are openly boastful. They elected Paul Brown as their captain long before the other classes got their teams organized. The sophs maintain that their team "Can't be beat" since they have three varsity men and two second string men in the line up. The academy and upper classmen are not saying much, but the academy has a long list of past victories to its credit, and the upper classmen, with one varsity and two second string men, are not expecting to permit the other teams to run over them. The faculty team looks more formidable this season than it has in years. With President Pennington as center, Professor Macy, former P. C. player, and Prof. Jones, Penn College letter man, as guards; and Professor Lewis and Professor Conover also former Penn players, as forwards, it appears that President's boast in chapel that "Somebody's liable to get walked on" may have a grain of truth in it. The faculty teams have quite frequently won the tournaments in the past, but there are four teams in school this year which are intimating strongly that history shall not repeat itself. Betting on the contests is not permitted, but there probably are not any safe bets.

The captains of the respective teams are: Academy, Ben Huntington; freshmen, Paul Brown; sophomores, Horace Terrell; upper classmen, C. R. Hinshaw; and faculty, President Pennington. The captains will have Thanksgiving week in which to prepare their men for the tournaments. Russell Parker has been engaged to referee the contests.
