CLOSING NUMBER OF LYCEUM COURSE GIVEN

Record Crowd Entertained by Lowell Patton Artists

As the closing number of this year's lyceum course, the Lowell Patton Artists appeared before a record audience in the college auditorium on Tuesday evening, March 22. Lowell Patton, pianist and director of the company, was assisted by his brother, Gault Patton, baritone, and Ludovic Huot, tenor, in presenting the most delightful program of the season. Beside being a pianist, Lowell Patton proved to be a reader and musical composer of rare ability, and the company presented the following program, which included numbers with marked dramatic and expressive qualities.

"MODERN CINDERELLA" COMING

"The Modern Cinderella" is to be presented on Friday night, April 1, in Wood-Mar Hall. This is to be Pacific's first venture in dramatics this year and should elicit much interest. This is being sponsored by the Y. W., and tickets may be procured at Graham's, Kienle's, and the college office at the popular prices of 35c, or for children under twelve, 25c.

There are sixteen characters in the cast, and some of them are very interesting, especially Mrs. O'Brien, the Irish cook and mother of Cinderella, and Louise Montgomery, the absent minded freshman who lisps. Her favorite expression is "Ithn't it fearful!"

One act is laid in Mrs. Mitford's exclusive girls' school, which she sometimes feels is "altogether too exclusive" because the girls are so very snobbish. The second act is laid in the Silver Lake House out in the country.

Y. W. INSTALLS OFFICERS FOR THE COMING YEAR

The meeting of the Y. W. on March 23, was a very impressive service, as the faithful members of last year's cabinet turned over the duties and responsibilities that were theirs to those who had been chosen to carry the burdens for the coming year. The year that has just come to a close was very successful as a result of hearty cooperation and the leadership of the faithful staff of workers. However, the Y. W. anticipates even a better year of service, and it is hoped that greater interest in the work may be stimulated. The new president has taken for her motto, "I can do all things through Christ who strengtheneth me," and with that as a motto and Christ as guide, the work of the coming year cannot fail.

Following is the new Y. W. cabinet:
President—Lolita Hinshaw.
Vice-President—Rachel Lundquist.
Secretary—Margaret Jackson.
Treasurer—Genevieve Badley.
U. R.—Rosa Aebischer.
Religious Meeting—Olive Kendall.
Social Service—Johanna Gerrits.
Social—Hulda Winslow.
World Fellowship—Juliet Godwin.
Music Committee—Retha Tucker.
Special music consisting of a vocal solo by Elizabeth Silver, a violin solo by Beryl Hale and another solo by Esther Haworth was much enjoyed by the Y. W. girls during the installation meeting.

The last year's cabinet was as follows:
President—Marie Hester.
Vice-President—Rosa Aebischer.
Secretary—Ruth Holding.
Treasurer—Lolita Hinshaw.
U. R.—Rose Ellen Hale.
Religious Meetings—Retha Tucker.
Social Service—Olive Kendall.
Social—May Pearson.
World Fellowship—Generva Street.
Student Fellowship—Mabel Kendall.
Music—Ruth Whitlock.

ACADEMY TENNIS

The Academy girls elected Lucy Hollingsworth for Girls' Tennis manager for the coming season. Miss Hollingsworth was winner of Academy Girls' tournament last year and was also a member of the team.

In a short meeting in the gym of those boys interested in tennis, Philip Holding was elected Academy Boys Tennis manager.

This is the Academy's second year of tennis in which Academy letters are to be awarded to team members. The managers hope to arrange for from four to six matches with neighboring high schools.

The Academy won two matches from Amity high school last year and hope to do as good this year.

ATHENA SOCIETY ELECTS

The Athena Literary Society held its annual elections on Wednesday evening, March 23. The new officers are: President, Juliet Godwin; vice-president, Beryl Hale; secretary, Della Hanville; treasurer, La Verne Hutchens; faculty advisor, Miss Binford; critic, Doris Kivett; Crescent reporter, Lucy Hollingsworth; marshal, Irene Brown; social committee chairman, Dorothea Nordyke. After a short social hour the meeting adjourned.

MEN'S A. A. ELECTS NEW GROUP OF OFFICERS

At a recent meeting of the Men's Athletic Association the following officers were elected and installed for the coming year:

President—Glen Brown.
Vice-President—Everett Gettman.
Secretary—Sanford Brown.
Treasurer—Homer Nordyke.
Senior Council Member—Carl Crane.
Junior Council Mem.—William Sweet.
Sophomore Council Member—Merlin Brown.
Academy Council Mem.—Ralph Moore.
Football Manager—Harry Schmeltzer.
Basket Ball Manager—Ben Huntington.
Baseball Manager—Robert Smith.
Tennis Manager—Wesley Hollingsworth.

Much has been accomplished this last year by the Men's Athletic Association, and much is expected for the coming year, because all of the officers are in some way connected with athletics other than simply through their respective offices. The retiring officers should be congratulated on their work for last year, especially in regard to the new addition on the gym, which was started and heartily supported by the Men's Athletic Association.

The retiring officers are:
President—Ben Huntington.
Vice-President—Glen Brown.
Secretary—Carl Crane.
Treasurer—Eugene Sandoz.
Senior Council Member—Ralph Hester.

Junior Council Member—Wendell Hutchens.
Sophomore Council Member—William Sweet.
Academy Council Member—Harold Smith.
Football Manager—Everett Gettman.
Basket Ball Manager—Sanford Brown.
Baseball Manager—Homer Nordyke.
Tennis Manager—Wesley Hollingsworth.

FACULTY STAGES A FROLIC

Pacific's sedate and peace-loving faculty took time by the forelock last Thursday evening and before anyone had realized that "April Fool" was coming, laid aside temporarily their weighty cares and the formality of their high positions, staging a real mix.

The invitations called the confiding ones to assemble at the home of Professor and Mrs. Weesner, but the reception they received upon their arrival was altogether reassuring. It was courteously suggested that they might fare better at Professor Conover's, so thither they went and were gladly received.

The peanut chase was among the exciting events, but some learned to their sorrow that "all that glitters is not gold." In the intelligence test which followed, there were many startling revelations. Some will doubtlessly be called for higher things as soon as the word gets out; and others—well, not quite so remarkable.

The younger set of the faculty put over a daring play, starring Prof. Armstrong as the leading lady, who was especially happy in his role. However, great credit must be given to the rest of the cast, for their remarkable performing.

INTER-CLASS GAMES NEARLY COMPLETED

Sophmores Win a Close Game From Junior-Seniors—4-3

The inter-class games are being played as fast as the weather will permit, there remaining only three games in the series. From all indications the final games will be finished next week and regular varsity practice will begin.

At the present time the Sophs lead with two wins and no defeats, the Junior-Senior next with three wins and one defeat, the one defeat being at the hands of the Sophs. Probably the most exciting game of the series was between the Sophs and Junior-Senior, the game being fast and close throughout. For three innings the score was tied 3 to 3, until in the sixth inning the Sophs scored the winning run, making the score 4 to 3. The batteries for the Junior-Senior were Nordyke and G. Brown; for the Sophs, Sweet and Everest.

The Frosh had an easy time in defeating the Second and Fourth years 14 to 3. The game was slow throughout and the outcome of the game was never in doubt.

In the sixth game of the series the Junior-Seniors defeated the First and Third years 18 to 3 with little difficulty. The Junior-Senior twirlers followed this with another win Friday night, defeating the Second-Fourth years 8 to 4.

Ralph Hester, retiring Y. M. president, then conducted the devotions and gave a brief review of the past year's work. He then presented the new president, Carl Crane, who told of the plans for the coming year.

The following cabinet members for the coming year were introduced:

A. H. Winters, Vice-President.
Glen Brown, Secretary.
William Sweet, Treasurer.
Stanley Kendall, Deputation Chairman.
Merlin Brown, Bible Study Chairman.

CHRISTIAN

BROADMINDEDNESS

Within the past few weeks we have been unusually fortunate in having the privilege of listening to a series of addresses in which various phases of international and inter-racial problems were discussed by men of liberal education and wide experience.

It is hoped that these things have accomplished their purpose in broadening our minds and enlarging our vision. We have been too narrow and we need to expand our minds by studying those things which will put us into sympathetic touch with people whose social heredity and environment, racial characteristics and problems are different from our own. But there are a few principles, however, that should direct the broadening process of Christians.

1. As we broaden intellectually we should deepen spiritually. "Four square" development is not sufficient; our characters should be cubic. In their efforts to expand horizontally some people fail to dig down to a firm foundation of Christian faith and experience, and the result is that they are broad but shallow and built on a foundation of shifting sand. We now proceed to our second principle.

2. We should strive to be broad enough to include all that Jesus would include and narrow enough to exclude all that He would exclude. No person has ever had a broader mind or larger vision than Jesus had. Yet He was narrow enough to exclude all that was false, all that was unrighteous, all that was unclean. He was even narrow enough to say that the only way to salvation was through Himself. The Apostle Peter said of Him, "Neither is there salvation in any other: for there is none other name under heaven given among men whereby we must be saved" (Acts 4:12). Therefore when an individual remarks that all religions are about alike, that they all answer the same purpose and that any other religion is as good as the Christian religion, it is evident that he has failed to find the real value and superiority of Christianity; that is, he has failed to find salvation. If he may be said to be really broad, he is also very shallow—too broad for the "straight gate and narrow way," too shallow to find the foundation of solid rock upon which to build a strong and permanent superstructure.

3. Our third principle touches the popular idea of brotherhood. Speaking to a certain class of people, Jesus said: "Ye are of your father, the Devil," while He taught His followers to say, "Our Father who art in heaven." Surely this affords no basis for brotherhood. The only way people can get into the Brotherhood of Christ is by being regenerated as individuals or "born again" into the family of God. If Christians would keep this fact in mind it would surely modify their social welfare work by making it merely a means contributing toward the spiritual regeneration of individuals.

There is, however, another sense in which world brotherhood is not only a possibility but already exists. Genetically we are all descendants of a common ancestor, with many problems and longings, hopes and aspirations in common, but in our selfish interests and narrowness we fail to recognize and appreciate this brotherhood. H. P. M.

A NARROW ESCAPE

A certain young man had become tired of his existence upon this earth, and decided to end it all by a well planned suicide. In accordance with his plan he obtained a rope, a bottle of poison, a box of matches, and a loaded gun.

He then proceeded to a nearby lake where the branches of a tree overhung the water. After climbing out to one of these branches, he tied one end of the rope around the branch and the other end around his neck. He next swallowed the poison and set his clothes on fire. With the gun in his hand he leaped from the branch. Under these conditions he felt assured that he could end his life, for with the gun he could blow his head off, and if he fell into the water he would have been drowned, not to mention the action of the fire and the poison.

Aiming the gun at his head he pulled the trigger. But, alas, in his nervous state he missed his head, severed the rope, fell into the water, put out the fire, drank so much water that he rendered the poison useless, and being frightened, swam to shore.

WHO GETS THE DOLLAR?

The following were submitted to the students by President Pennington for their solution:

1. In a 20 foot alley a 20 foot ladder reaches twice as high on one side as on the other. Where is the ladder set?
2. When you look into a mirror, your right and left sides seem reversed. Why does not the mirror also reverse up and down?

3. Mary is 20 years old. Mary is twice as old as Ann was when Mary was as old as Ann is now. How old is Ann?

4. James and John are going away from home, James going north at the rate of 4 miles per hour and John going west at the rate of 3 miles per hour. James is now 40 miles from home. James is twice as far from home as John was when James was as far from home as John is now. How far apart will they be seven hours from now?

5. If while all humanity were unconscious everything in the universe should shrink to half its present dimensions, how would you prove it?

The person giving the best solution to the last named article will receive one dollar from Professor Perisho, and for the correct solution, President Pennington will give one dollar.

It is hoped that many will try for the above named rewards.

ENGLISH AS SHE IS SPOKEN

We'll begin with box, and the plural is boxes;

But the plural of ox is oxen, not oxes. Then one fowl is goose, but two are called geese;

Yet the plural of moose should never be meese. You may find a lone mouse, or a whole nest of mice;

But the plural of house is houses, not hice.

If the plural of man is always called men,

Why shouldn't the plural of pan be called pen?

Then the cow in the plural may be cows or kine;

But a vow if repeated is never called vine;

And if I speak of a foot and you show me your feet,

And I give you a boot, would a pair be called beet?

If the singular's this, and the plural is these,

Should the plural of kiss be nick-named keese?

Then one would be that, and these would be those,

Yet hat in the plural would never be hose;

And the plural of cat is cats, not cose. We speak of brother, and also of brethren;

But though we say mother, we never say methren.

Then masculine pronouns are he, his, and him;

But imagine the feminine, she, shis, and shim!

So the English, I think you will all agree,

Is the most wonderful language you ever did see.

As a fitting close to the merry evening delicate refreshments were served. However, the Volstead act (or something else) impeded most of the guests from indulging in more than a very limited amount of the pink lemonade. Notable exceptions to this commendable respect were President Pennington and Professor Weesner.

Mrs. Hodgkin, who has been confined to her home since her collision with an automobile several weeks ago, again ventured out into the whirl of faculty society and was a very welcome member of the party. C. G. McC.

ABOUT THE CAMPUS

Mrs. Hodgkin was unable to meet her Latin classes on Friday.

Miss Beryl Hale spent Wednesday night with Miss Jane Dolph.

Robert Smith spent the week end at the home of his sister in McMinnville.

Miss Johnson has had a very bad cold. However, it is some better now.

Townsend Sutton ran his car in the ditch on Thursday in his mad rush to avoid Della Hanville.

Miss Esther Haworth was hostess at an informal St. Patrick's party at her home on Saturday evening, March 19.

Academy Student Body elections come in a short time, so be thinking of whom you would like to have for officers.

Hilma Hendrickson, Gladys Hadley, Walter Cook and Wendell Hutchens spent last week end at their homes in Portland.

Miss Josephine Whitney motored to Portland on Friday afternoon. She was accompanied by Misses John and Frederick Christie.

Joseph Silver, overjoyed at the sight of his name in a preceding issue of the Crescent, desired that it should appear in print again.

The students are glad to hear that Professor Hull is gradually improving. He is now able to be up some, and it is hoped that before long he will be able to assume his regular duties.

Miss Eva Miles, Miss Esther Binford and Miss Leona Watland were among those who attended the Roland Hayes concert in Portland Friday evening, March 18. They returned on Saturday.

NO WONDER!

"I married a widow with a grown daughter. My father fell in love with my step-daughter and married her, thus becoming my son-in-law, and my step-daughter became my mother because she was my father's wife.

"My wife gave birth to a son, who was, of course, my father's brother-in-law and my uncle, for he was the brother of my step-mother.

"My father's wife became the mother of a son. He was, of course, my brother—and also my grandchild, for he was the son of my daughter.

"Accordingly, my wife was my grandmother because she was my mother's mother. I was my wife's husband and grandchild at the same time—and as the husband of a person's grandmother is his grandfather, I AM MY OWN GRANDFATHER!"—Med. Insurance.

BASKET BALL GIRLS ENJOY A PIE FEED

On the evening of March 26 the six girls on the basket ball team met at the home of the captain, Wilma Evans, where they enjoyed a pie feed. After they had eaten for some time, exercise was deemed essential, and therefore the group serenaded the dormitories. After singing in the streets they returned to the home of the hostess to eat more pie. Those present were: Bernice Carlisle, Margaret McClean, Juliet Godwin, Dorothea Woods, Dorothea Nordyke, Helen Evans, and the hostess, Wilma Evans.

FROM THE CRESCENT FILES

One Year Ago

Miss Rosa Aebischer, of Pacific, with her oration, "The Road to Peace," was credited with sixth place in the State Peace Contest. O. A. C. took first place with an oration, "I Am Innocent of This Blood."

The annual Gold "P" initiations took place. Six new members were admitted into the club.

The tennis team, consisting of Huntington, Terrell, Hester, and Jones, was chosen by means of the elimination tournament.

A public recital was given by Hull's pupils in the college chapel.

Ten Years Ago

The Pacific College basket ball team, consisting of Hinshaw, Elliott, Gulley, Colcord, Guyer, and Wright, took the conference championship by defeating McMinnville College and Pacific University in two fast games. The teams were, as they finished the conference race, Pacific College, Pacific University, McMinnville College, and Philomath College.

David Starr Jordan, the great pacifist, gave two addresses to the student body on the subject of peace.

Dr. Herberman gave a Lyceum number which was a lecture entitled, "Life's Balance Sheet."

Pacific College placed Gulley, Colcord and Elliott on the mythical All-Star team of the league as picked by R. W. Lewis, coach.

TENNIS PROSPECTS GOOD

With three letter men returning this year, the prospects for a good men's tennis team is bright. The three letter men are Ben Huntington, Ralph Hester and Walter Cook, all of them having received three tennis letters. Beside the letter men trying out are twelve others, practically all of whom have had some experience.

The men have been paired as follows for the tournament: Philip Gatch and Philip Holding, Thurman Evans and Ralph Coleman, Frank Cole and Glen Brown, the final winner of these three matches playing Walter Cook; Kenneth Gumm and Homer Hester, Donald Crozer and Eldon Everest, Robert Holding and Wesley Hollingsworth, the final winner playing Ralph Hester.

Three tournament games have been played and the rest will be run off as fast as possible. Philip Gatch won his match (6-3)-(1-6)-(7-5); Glen Brown won his game by the scores (6-4)-(1-6)-(8-6), and Kenneth Gumm won the third game. (6-2)-(0-6)-(6-4).

According to Wesley Hollingsworth, tennis manager, tournaments will probably be scheduled with the same colleges as the girls' team. There will be return games for each match, making about seven or eight matches for the season.

I HAVEN'T TIME

By Margery Isabel

I haven't time to worry,
And I haven't time to fret;
I haven't any time to lose
In folly or regret.

I haven't time to criticize,
To murmur or complain;
I haven't time to seek applause,
Or live for worldly gain.

I haven't time to wander out
In broad and dangerous ways;
No time to live a selfish life,
Because it never pays.

I've time for work and love and joy,
And a little time for play;
I've time to lend a helping hand
To others on life's way.

Ludovic Huot, being a native Frenchman, delighted the audience with his French interpretations which he sang in his native language. The height of concert presentation was reached in "La donna e mobile" from Rigoletto. Huot possesses a powerful voice and presented his selections in a commendable manner. The baritone of Gault Patton was one of the best heard from the Lyceum platform here. Although each was an artist of great ability, the outstanding feature of the evening's program was that of Lowell Patton at the piano. Not only is his work as an accompanist to be commented upon but also his skill in presenting some of the most difficult compositions.

That the performers seemed so human, has been the general comment, and the division of the program into ten parts contained selections to appeal to different types of people in the audience.

THE NAMING OF DOUGLAS FIR

The Douglas fir, well known and majestic forest giant of the north Pacific coast, is a monument to a young Scottish botanist, David Douglas.

One hundred years ago Douglas was exploring the Pacific Northwest and adding greatly to the sum of forestry and botanical knowledge, not only of the Pacific northwest, but of North America. The list of American trees and plants discovered and described by Douglas runs into the hundreds. His privations and self-sacrifice while pioneering for science in the Oregon country from 1823 to 1830 were the more real because they had not for their goal material wealth. Douglas was only 25 years old when he first set out for America in 1823, but he already had a wide experience and reputation as a scientist.

He first saw the tree which later was to bear his name when he came into the Columbia River on April 8, 1825, describing it as "a species which may prove to be Pinus taxifolia." When Douglas' specimens arrived in England the tree was first called Pinus Douglasii, but it was soon seen that it was not a pine. Passing through a varied nomenclature, it was finally named Pseudotsuga taxifolia—false hemlock.

In addition to its correct English name of Douglas fir, in honor of its discoverer, the tree has also borne such local names as Orgeon pine, red fir, yellow fir, and others. French foresters and botanists call it "le Douglas."—U. S. Forest Service.

TENNIS TOURNAMENTS START

The women's tennis tournaments will be played off this week, and the three highest will be members of the Pacific College Women's Tennis team. The only member of last year's tennis team is Olive Kendall, but several of the contestants have had experience. No matches have been scheduled to date but tournaments will probably be played with Linfield, Albany and Monmouth; also Pacific College is to be represented at the Willamette Valley Conference Tennis tournament this year.

The nine contestants for the team have been paired as follows: Louise Nelson and Ruth Holding, the winner playing Olive Kendall; Josephine Whitney and Ila Tozier, the winner playing Wilma Evans; Rachel Lundquist and Lucy Hollingsworth, the winner playing Hilma Hendrickson.

It may be stated that Ruth Holding defeated Louise Nelson by two straight sets.

TREFIAN

At the regular meeting of Trefian the names of Ina Druck, Dorothy Chen-evert, Margaret Jackson and Ila Tozier were presented for membership. Following the business Johanna Gerrits presented a comical musical reading entitled, "In the Usual Way," accompanied at the piano by Rachel Lundquist. Josephine Whitney read, "His Majesty, The King," by Kipling.

The reporter neglected to state that at a previous meeting Mary Bunn was elected to Trefian membership.

"Income taxes," grumbled the carpet, as dad got busy with his hammer.

Yes, Oscar, freckles are made from sitting in the shade of a screen door.

"The moon and I are pretty much alike."

"What do you mean?"

"Both down to our last quarter."

Is not more loathed than an effeminate man

In time of action.

—Shakespeare: Troil and Cress.

Have ye not heard it said full oft,
A woman's nay doth stand for nought?

—Shakespeare: Pass. Pilgrim.

Rage is the shortest passion of our souls;

Like narrow brooks, that rise with sudden show'rs,

It swells in haste, and falls again as soon.

—Rowe: The Fair Penitent.

"MODERN CINDERELLA" COMING

The plot has to do with the stealing of the Senior banner by the Freshmen, a daring deed and one which no Freshman had been fresh enough to attempt before. The Seniors' consternation and frantic efforts to capture the thieves are very amusing, and the Freshmen are raised to heights of fame at the climax of the play.

Between the acts there will be singing and a reading that will add much to the attractiveness of the evening's entertainment.

Y. W. CABINET ENTERTAINS

The retiring Y. W. cabinet entertained the new cabinet at a delightful supper Thursday evening. The table was daintily decorated with spring beauties, ferns and ivy. During the course of the evening the conversation turned from light-hearted jokes to the more serious problem of how the Y. W. meetings may be made more interesting for all the girls. Helpful suggestions were given for future meetings. The new cabinet wishes to express their appreciation for the glimpse of wholesome comradeship shown them. J. G.

Definition of an optimist—A man fell from the roof of a twelve story building and as he hurtled by the fourth story window, he remarked to himself, "Well, I'm all right so far."

When a good man goes wrong, the news is telegraphed all around.

When a bad man turns good, they hardly believe it next door.
