QUAKERS EVEN SCORE WITH SCHOOL TEACHERS

Hidden Ball Trick Inaugurated as Monmouth Rallies Too Late

The Pacific College nine chalked up their second conference victory when they defeated the Monmouth nine 6-5 on the local diamond, May 22. This evened the score, as Monmouth defeated the Quakers earlier in the season. Pacific led throughout the game, getting a run in the first inning, three in the second, two in the fifth and one in the eighth.

The Quakers scored a run in the first when Michener lead-off man, drew a walk, and Sweet and Baker both got on bases on errors, scoring Michener.

The second inning was a "comedy of errors," Monmouth scoring two runs on a hit and three errors by the Quakers. But the Quakers came back and scored three runs in their half. Howard and Haworth both singled and scored on Baker's single through second. Sweet scored another run this inning on a sacrifice and an error, giving Pacific the lead 4 to 2.

The third and fourth innings went scoreless for both, but in the fifth Pacific scored a couple of more counters. Sweet, first man up in this inning, walked, Baker advanced him with a single, and Brown scored both with a three bagger down the right field foul line, giving Pacific the lead and seemingly putting the game on ice.

In the seventh the Quakers had the bases full but two men were put out at home, ending the Quakers' chance of scoring in that inning.

Monmouth scored a run in the eighth with the help of an error and a balk. In the ninth Monmouth started a rally which netted them two runs before they were stopped. The first man up walked and then on a single scored from first when the ball became lost in the grass (This might be called the "hidden ball" trick, at least it worked successfully), and on an error scored again, making the score 6 to 5. The next man up knocked a pop-fly to short, ending the game.

Sweet started for Pacific in the box and pitched good ball, allowing only two runs in the first four innings, and Hutchens finished the game.

Baker was the batting star of the game for the Quakers with three hits out of four times at bat. The whole team, although making six errors, played the best ball of the season.

FORMER STUDENTS MARRY

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the First Friends church at Portland on Tuesday evening, May 29, when Gladys, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Hadley of Portland, became the bride of Walter C. Cook of Newberg. Preceding the ceremony Lolita Hinshaw sang "All For You" by Easthope Martin, and "Because" by D'Hardelot; she was accompanied by Genevieve Badley. Promptly at eight-thirty the bridal party entered the church to the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March from Athalia, played on the organ by Elizabeth Hadley. Preceded to the altar by her bridesmaids, Rachel Lundquist, Velda Livingston, Margaret Jackson, Mildred Choate, and her maid of honor, Mildred Hadley, the bride entered on the arm of her father who gave her in marriage. The party was met at the altar by the groom, his best man, Glen Rinard, and the ushers, Stanley Kendall, William Sweet, Hubert Armstrong and Charles Beals, and the impressive ring service was read by Rev. Chester Hadley, pastor of the First Friends church.

Immediately after the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents at 1131 E. Main, following which the bride and groom, amid showers of rice and the good wishes of their friends, left to spend their honeymoon at the beach.

Mr. and Mrs. Cook are both former students of Pacific College, Mrs. Cook having been a member of the class of '29, and Mr. Cook a graduate of last year.

GOLD "P" BANQUET TO BE GIVEN THIS YEAR

The date of the Gold "P" banquet for this year has been set for June 9th. Because of the difficulty of obtaining a date, this banquet has been omitted from the commencement week program for several years but this year, we are glad to say, time has been found in which this event can be put over.

An attempt has been made to get in touch with all the old letter men or those who participated in school athletics before letters were awarded and have them at this banquet. It is certain that the affair is going to be quite up to those of former times, for with the invitations to the former athletes and the interest shown by the local members of the club, a great many are going to be there and we hope that everyone is going to have just as good a time as has always been had at these banquets.

In spite of the effort that has been made to reach all the men who are eligible to this banquet, it is quite possible that some have been missed. If such is the case and you happen to know of any such, it will please the committee in charge of the meal a great deal if you will tell them of the banquet and urge them to be present.

We want a big banquet, for we are going to try to put over something more permanent than the present loose organization of the club. We want you if you can come. We want everyone that is interested and we can assure you of a good time and of a chance to meet former team mates and talk over old times. In fact we are calling this banquet the "Talk it Over" banquet, for that is just what we are going to do there.

The meal itself is to be cooked by the same ladies who always cook such a splendid meal for our banquets, and it alone is well worth coming for. Besides that we are arranging good music and also a good toast program; but the

FOURTH YEAR CLASS PLAY IS PRESENTED

"Cyclone Sally" Very Successful, Large Crowd in Attendance

The Fourth Year class of Pacific Academy presented the three act comedy, "Cyclone Sally," to a packed house, Saturday, June 22nd. Not a seat was left when the curtains were drawn for the first act and many were compelled to stand throughout the whole play.

Jack Webster, owner of the Webster Estate, and who was practically bankrupt except for his estate, had heard of Sue Bascom receiving a large fortune and consequently he came to see if he couldn't win the hand of said girl. This was well carried out by Raymond Neal. Reggie Manners, an Englishman, who was always at the right hand of Jack Webster except when ordered away and who became a very experienced "apple-pluckah," was played by William Coleman, who had the English air well in hand. Sally Graham, otherwise known as Cyclone Sally because of her terrible temper and deadly aim with a shotgun, was the owner of the adjoining estate to Jack Webster. Jack and Sally argued because of a cabbage patch which Sally had planted in Jack's front yard. The "dashed cabbage" was a very important factor in the humor of the play. Sally heard of Jack's intentions to marry Sue and decided to impersonate Sue, as the two looked very much alike. Very interesting complications resulted, ending up with Jack discovering that Sue was Sally. Jack cleared himself and the two became engaged. The part of Sally Graham was taken by Beryl Hale, who handled the part perfectly.

The other characters were Jim Jerkins, played by Donald Schmeltzer, who courted Jenny Thatcher, Jack's hired girl, played by Juliet Godwin, for twenty years, and when the play ended was still not discouraged. Willie Clump, who doesn't know "who the deuce he did propose to," was very humorously carried out by Edward Baker. Ruth Thatcher, also staying at Jack's, immediately struck Reggie's eye and in the course of the play the two became engaged. Effie Varden, a cute little neighbor, added many wise cracks to puzzle the abashed Reggie. This part was taken by Arloene Davey. Vivian Varden, the belle of Cedar Point and very detrimental in unravelling the plot of Sally and the girls to Jack, was very sophisticatedly played by Della Hanville.

The entire play was laid in the living room on the Webster Estate near the town of Cedar Point, and the action took place in the early fall.

The college orchestra gave two selections which were very favorably re-

AN HONOR

To win the Wilbur Elliott Memorial Award is an honor well worth having and well worth working for, and I am sure we will all join in and say we are mighty glad to see Ralph get it. Ralph has given his entire year to Christian life and service and has been giving a great deal of his time and energy to advance what he believes is right. He has been teaching a Sunday school class at Middleton and has been active on the Y. M. C. A. cabinet and with the deputation group. Congratulations! Our best wishes to you for success in whatever you may attempt to do. We're proud of Ralph Choate.

Now we all turn and begin to wonder who will be most deserving of the award next year. Of course that cannot be told yet but it is a big challenge to all who know they will be Freshmen. The time to start active Christian life and service is the first year in college. It is an asset to the one doing so—especially in a college which upholds Christian principles. We hope that the winner of the award next year will be as hard to decide and yet as sure as the committee was this year.

A LETTER FROM A MOTHER TO HER SON AT PACIFIC

My Dear Son:—

I am thinking of you tonight. I have just returned from listening to some orations given by the graduating class of a local school. I remember having heard an oration once about a Christian college and its various advantages. You were very much in favor of such a college then.

Tonight I'm wondering if, after a year's work in the sort of school you thought you would like, you still have the same views of the Christian college as you had then. Then you were on the outside looking in. Now you are on the inside looking out. How do the views compare? I hope that you have not had to make any serious readjustments, for I like to think that Pacific College maintains the standards you hoped to find in your ideal Christian school.

It seems to me that the tragedy of present day education is that only the mind receives training, while the moral and spiritual interests are ignored. I'm so grateful that you could spend this year in a school where this is not the case, a school where they put first things first.

The year has seemed long without you in the home but we do not regret your absence if you have improved the time. The foundation you have laid this year will affect all your future work, so I hope that you have builded with care.

Doubtless you have found the path to knowledge not an easy one, but the goal is not inaccessible, though it may be hard to reach.

Phillips Brooks said, "O, do not pray for easy lives! Pray to be stronger men. Do not pray for tasks equal to your powers. Pray for powers equal to your task! Then the doing of your work shall be no miracle. But you should be a miracle. Every day you shall wonder at yourself, at the richness of life which has come in you by the grace of God."

I like this quotation for the truth it contains.

The remaining weeks of school will soon pass and you will have a change from the routine of college work, then I am sure you will be glad to take it up again when the time comes.

We shall be looking forward to the time when you will be at home this summer and will save the best strawberries and fried chicken for you.

With love,

Mother.

PACIFIC COLLEGE NINE ARE SHUT OUT BY LINFIELD TEAM

The Linfield "diamond stars" shut out the Pacific College nine 7 to 0 here last Tuesday in the final conference game of the season.

The first two innings were scoreless but in the third the Linfield players found their "batting eye" and before the smoke cleared away had four counters across the platter, and scored two more in the sixth, and one more in the eighth, making seven in all.

The Quakers lost a good chance to score in the first inning when with the bases filled and two outs the next batter struck out. Again in the eighth with only one down and a man on second and third, the Linfield pitcher bore down and struck out the next two batters, ending Pacific's chance to score.

Linfield garnered 11 hits and made them when they were needed, while Pacific could only connect with three, two of which were made by Baker. Sweet, Hutchens and Michener were the batteries for Pacific while Martyn pitched the whole game for Linfield with Lambert on the receiving end.

COMMENCEMENT ANNOUNCEMENTS

The thirty-fifth annual commencement of Pacific college will occur this year on Wednesday, June 13, at 10 o'clock, and will be preceded by the usual program of commencement week. The commencement address will be given by Dr. H. L. Bowman, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Portland, his subject being "Troglodytes of Today."

The opening event of the commencement program will be the annual concert given by the college school of music. This will occur Saturday evening, June 9, and one of the features of the program will be the repetition of the cantata, "The Singing Leaves." There has been such a demand for the second presentation of this beautiful cantata that it will be given again.

The two commencement events of Sunday, June 10, will be the baccalaureate sermon, which President Levi T. Pennington has been asked to give, the service occurring at 11 o'clock, and the address to the college Christian Associations, for which service Rev. Chester P. Gates of Portland has been invited.

The class day program will occur Monday evening at 8 o'clock, June 11. This event always draws a big house.

Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock will occur the Academy and Commercial graduating exercises.

Wednesday morning at 10 the college commencement will occur, the following receiving their degrees: Mildred Choate of Greenleaf, Ida.; Marle Hester of Newberg; Lolita Hinshaw of Greenleaf, Ida.; Wendell Hutchens of Portland; Lois Jones of Star, Ida.; Mary Mills of Springbrook; Martha Mueller of Newberg; May Pearson of Cashmere, Wash.; Edna Ralston of Newberg; Ederis Raycraft of Bend; and Retha Tucker of Newberg.

The commencement week exercises will close with the Alumni banquet Wednesday evening, admission to which will be by invitation.

All the commencement events except the Alumni banquet are free to all, and the public is cordially invited.

FOURTH YEAR CLASS PLAY IS PRESENTED

ceived. Between acts I and II the Prophecy of the Third Year class was read by Elva Votaw. This enabled the audience to obtain a very vivid view of the Fourth Year class in after life. Between acts II and III the will of the Fourth Year class was read by Mabel Kendall, class president. This was especially read for the benefit of the Third Year class.

At the close of the play the Third Year class came forward and very graciously received Bruin Junior, after which the usual skirmish occurred which ended in a tie this time—neither class got all of the bear but one class or the other (the writer is not informed which) very rudely plucked one of the ears off of the much abused cub.

The annual Freshman-Sophomore picnic was held at the Yamhill picnic grounds, Friday, May 25th. A good deal of the time was spent in floating and boating. The rest of the time was spent eating and greeting.

As these two classes have been together a year, they had very little trouble getting acquainted, etc., and so nobody rowed alone.

About nine-thirty the party reluctantly broke up and they left well satisfied with a very entertaining evening.

The picnic, as picnics usually go, was very satisfactorily chaperoned by Miss Esther Binford, matron of Canyon Hall, and Mr. Hubert Armstrong, governor of the men's dormitory.

THE QUAKER BOY

Congratulations, Ralph, the Quaker Boy is glad you won the Wilbur Elliott Award. That is a real honor. Keep up the good work.

"The baseball season is over," says Coach Hubert E. Armstrong. "Last season the ball team was good, this year better, next year BEST."

—QB—

I wonder what folks mean when they ask how much Ila Tozier paid Walter Mueller to play for the students in student chapel behind the scenes?

—QB—

More wonders! Wonder why the following P. C. students were especially interested in the Hadley-Cook wedding ceremonies? Mildred Choate, Lolita Hinshaw, Genevieve Badley, Charles Beals, Glen Rinard, Frank Cole, and Hubert Armstrong.

—QB—

We all got our wish—we had vacation Memorial day. Everybody came back to school all prepared to get a nice rest again after their various activities of the day.

—QB—

It seems to me that the only suitable word to rhyme with exam is cram.

—QB—

Word has been received of the marriage of Marjory Brown to Wendell Votaw. The ceremony took place Sunday, June third, at Tacoma, Washington. Mrs. Votaw was a member of the Pacific College class of 1920.

—QB—

Linfield College is to have a new administration building. The groundbreaking ceremonies were recently held. The building was made possible by the combined efforts of college and community.

—QB—

The Senior class have begun work on the annual class play. It will be given Monday, June 11th. The play they will present is "Milestones," by Arnold Bennett and Edward Knoblock.

—QB—

We will surely all agree that the faculty volley ball team were very worthy of their hard-earned letters. Now we expect to see our male faculty members wearing their handsome inch-high "Q's."

—QB—

The Podunk University, winners of the Pacific Coast baseball championship (for old timers), defeated the college nine 3 to 0, Friday, 25th. Everyone was surprised to see or to hear of the initial victory of Podunk but after the debris had been cleared away and the smoke gone 'twas so—Podunk had turned the trick!

—QB—

An Academy Student Body meeting was held May 30, 1928, to elect the remaining officers. The following officers were elected: Social chairman, Lillian Barnes; song leader, Eva Kendall; yell leader, James Haworth; forensic manager, Ralph Moore.

—QB—

Veldon Diment received honorable mention in a prize essay contest held by the forest service of the North Pacific District. The subject for all the essays was "Oregon and Her Future Forests." Because of his efforts he will receive a "certificate of merit" signed by Governor Patterson.

—QB—

The annual reception for the graduates of the various college departments was given by President and Mrs. Pennington on the spacious lawn at their home Thursday afternoon, May 31, from four to six o'clock. This year the honor of the reception was intended to include the members of the faculty who will not be here next year. Those present during the reception hour were college board members and their wives, students and the parents of the graduate guests of honor. The girls of the college Sophomore class presided at the punch bowls during the afternoon.

CHAPEL NOTES

May 24.—Joseph Silver and Beryl Hale, violinists, and Mary Sue Binford, pianist, gave an interesting group of numbers in Student Chapel. Not the least interesting number was the very elaborate introduction to the program given by Mr. Silver, in which he combined expressions from chapel speakers of several years. Mr. Silver's memory appeared to be excellent. The program was as follows:

Spring Song ..... Mendelssohn
By the River ..... Morse
Traumerl ..... Schumann

May 25.—The student body was instructively entertained by a series of pictures of the League of Nations, showing the buildings, sessions and work of the league and various maps illustrating its work. The pictures were introduced by Prof. Macy, who gave a short outline of the organization of the League. The pictures were ably explained by Prof. Michener.

May 31.—The Trefian Literary Society conducted the chapel program and presented the following program:

Piano, "Scarf Dance" by Luina .....
..... Ila Tozier
Skit, "Pyramus and Thisbe,"—Alida Wilson, Bernice Carlisle, Helen Whipple, May Cooper, Elisabeth Carey, Lois Jones.

The playlet was well given and much enjoyed by the student body. The tears of the hero were particularly touching.

An interesting skit from the Fourth Year play, "Cyclone Sally," was presented.

SENIORS SUCCEED IN ENJOYING ANNUAL SENIOR "SNEAK DAY"

The college Seniors left Newberg about 5:00 a. m. Friday for a day of enjoyment and they certainly succeeded. They drove out on the Columbia River Highway to Shepherd's Dell before stopping for breakfast, so everyone was hungry for bacon and eggs, coffee, hotcakes and syrup.

During the morning stops were made at various places of interest, especially at Multnomah Falls, where most of them climbed to the top and beyond. They stopped at Eagle Creek for lunch and spent quite a long time eating, taking pictures, talking, walking, resting, sleeping, etc.

Soon after 3:30 they were on the road again, stopping only a few minutes at Latourelle Falls and Crown Point, until they reached Portland where they enjoyed a perfectly lovely dinner at the home of the class president, Mr. Wendell Hutchens.

It was a perfect day for a picnic and the Seniors came home "dead tired" in first class picnic fashion.

Y. M. C. A.

Professor Perry D. Macy spoke to the Y. M. C. A. last Wednesday, May 23, on the subject of "Values." In this talk he stressed the importance of putting the correct value on the things of life.

The substance of his inspiring message was this: Facts differ from values. For example a rectangular table is a fact but if you say it is a beautiful table, then that is an aesthetic valuation. Mr. Macy illustrated by telling of the Indians here in the Northwest who traded excellent furs to the white men for rusty nails, which was an economic valuation. Also of the heathen mother of India who throws her firstborn into the Ganges, whereas the American woman cannot, which is a moral valuation. It is not enough to know facts alone unless you have a good sense of values.

Professor Macy stressed the moral and religious values. For example there are thousands of occupations for young men to choose from and before the choice should be made a correct valuation of each vocation should be clearly in mind. In the new freedom of young people to make choices and the many new contacts which everyone has with other nationalities such as the Chinese, there is a small sense of value brought to each person. But there is a standard of values which has stood the test of time and that is the teachings of Christ. In this there is a standard for others which is the sense of appreciation of the fine things someone else does.

In closing, Mr. Macy said, "Finally here are some things of high values," and then he read these words from the Bible: "Finally brethren, whatsoever things are pure, whatsoever things are lovely, whatsoever things are of good report; if there be any virtue, and if there be any praise, think on these things." "These are the standards of valuation," concluded Mr. Macy.

Y. W. C. A.

The fourth year girls of the Academy were in charge of Y. W. May 23. Alice Crozier read the scripture lesson, after which Juliet Godwin led in prayer. A solo, "Jesus Is Leading Me," was sung by Mabel Kendall.

Della Hanville read parts of the poem, "The Tolling of Felix," by Henry Van Dyke. Seven sayings were discovered in some ancient ruins and credited to Christ. Each begins with the words, "Jesus said—." The fifth of these seven sayings was used by Henry Van Dyke as the theme for his poem. The poem is the legend of Felix in his search for Christ. He was told that if he would seek aright he would find the Christ. After much search and far wanderings, he went to the cave of a hermit to ask advice. The hermit gave him the words, "Raise the stone and thou shalt find me; cleave the wood and I am there." Then Felix went to lowly work. In doing his part he left a sense of daily comfort in toil for daily bread. In the morning he cheered the workers with singing; at noon he taught them the story of Jesus; at night he taught them to pray. Though Felix does not see Christ, he loves Him. He finally learns that they who work without complaining, do the will of the Master. He who does his best has Him as his guest.

The theme of the poem may be said to be that the blessing of earth is toil.

THIRD AND FOURTH YEARS BANQUET AT THE IMPERIAL

To-o-o-ot, to-o-o-ot, rattle, bang!

On May 25 the Imperial Hotel was raided by a group of reckless Third and Fourth year drivers. Finding a table decorated in red and white, the Fourth year colors, the group immediately made themselves at home. A three course dinner was served by familiar looking people, whom the banqueters suspected to be Second years.

Dennis McGuire took charge as toastmaster and cleverly introduced the main features of the evening—the Ford, which had to be assembled bit by bit. The parts present, each of which gave a toast, were:

Steering Wheel .....Dennis McGuire
Bumper .....Elva Votaw
License .....Ralph Moore
Motor .....Raymond Neal
Brakes .....Arloene Davey
Wheels .....Mabel Kendall
Gas Tank .....Della Hanville
Spare Tire .....Mrs. Hodgins

The Spare Tire suggested that people should learn to "retire" gracefully, so after having taken their first lesson, they drove home with a rattle bang.

FINAL TENNIS MATCH IS HELD

The Quaker tennis teams journeyed to Monmouth last Friday and journeyed back with one win chalked up in their favor but eight with the opposite sign. Pacific won the first men's singles but lost the other three men's singles, two girls' singles, men's doubles, women's doubles, and mixed doubles. Many of the matches were very close but Pacific wasn't quite able to return the winning point. This was the last match this year for the local team. While the only match won was the Linfield match, still the season can be classed as a success because of the unusual material developed and the reserve power which was shown throughout the season.

JOKES

Max: "What is the cause of falling hair?"
Climax: "Gravity."

Where is the population of our state most dense?
Just above the ears.

Elmore: "Did you have your hair cut?"
Arthur: "No, I just washed it and it shrunk."

Charles B.: "I have taken up golf."
Benny: "What do you go around in?"
Charles B.: "Golf pants."
"He's the guy I'm laying for," said the hen as the farmer crossed the barnyard.

FOUR BIRTHDAYS ARE JOINTLY CELEBRATED AT DROM DINNER

Another of the very enjoyable birthday dinners was given at Canyon Hall Monday evening, May 21. All the dormitory students were present and in addition Mrs. Bell G. Badley of Portland, who was visiting her daughter, Genevieve.

Everyone was enthusiastic about the dinner and all were loud in their praise of the excellent work of Mrs. Schmidt. And it was a meal well worth the praise it received, for after a delicious meat course they were served with ice cream with strawberries and two beautiful and very good birthday cakes. The only regret expressed was that of having eaten too much.

Those who were the inspiration of this occasion, having had birthdays during the last two months, were Miss Esther Binford, Generva Street, Elmore Jackson and Rufus Trueblood. Birthday wishes (although late) to each of them.

Fish are biting; get your tackle and have a meal. Parker Hardware Co.
