Farewell Party Held For Perisho Family

Perishos to Leave for East Soon After Close of School

The student body and faculty farewell party for Dr. Perisho and his family, held last Friday evening, June second, was one of the most enjoyed occasions this year.

Soon after six o'clock each of the four classes ran, walked, and otherwise carried themselves on a long treasure hunt. The juniors were believed to be the winners. A game of indoor baseball was played until food was ready. The victorious team ate first, but everyone was ready for food. Wieners, buns, salads and pickles composed the first part of the end of the fast. Then eight gallons of ice cream were served. Almost everyone got his fill of ice cream. Eugene Coffin expressed, in behalf of the student body his deep appreciation for the work the Perishos have done here at Pacific, and his regret in losing them from this campus.

Following a short talk by Dr. Perisho the school song was sung and the party officially disbanded.

The Perishos intend to leave for Okaloosa, Iowa, on or near Commencement day, June 13.

END OF TWENTIETH CENTURY DISCUSSED

Prof. Lewis gave his chapel talk on Thursday, May 25.

He said that the decade 1800-1900 was a fairly distinct era known as the Naughty Nineties or the Age of Decadence. The literature of that period was decidedly inferior to that of earlier years.

Looking forward to the decade 1990-2000 is an unprofitable speculation that is, nevertheless, fascinating. Mr. Lewis prophesies that this era will be the Golden Age as far as art, business, communication and science are concerned. No one knows exactly what changes will take place during the next sixty years but we do know that the Golden Age will emerge as a result of the progress we are making at the present time.

SENIORS GIVE CLASSMATE FAREWELL BREAKFAST

The senior class met at the Hanville home for a waffle feed, Friday morning, June 2.

The affair was a surprise and farewell party for Winifred Woodward, for "she's off to Philadelphia in the morning." Winifred arrived in due time and was properly surprised. From that, and from the amount of waffles consumed, it has been deducted that the breakfast was a success.

The class also took advantage of the occasion for a class meeting and reached some important decisions before time for nine o'clock classes.

PACIFIC STUDENT HAS BEAUTIFUL WEDDING

At a beautiful and yet simple wedding, held at the Friends church Saturday evening, May 27, at 7 o'clock, Miss Ruth Isabella Jacobson became the bride of Mr. R. Dwight Hill of Portland.

Preceding the ceremony Miss Della Hanville and Mr. Loyde Osburn sang "I Love You Truly" and Mr. Dennis McGuire sang "All For You," Professor Alexander Hull playing both piano accompaniments. Then to the strains of Lohengrin's Wedding March played on the organ by Mr. Hull, Rev. Levi T. Pennington, Mr. Hill and his best man, Mr. James Frost of Portland, entered the church from the north. At the same time Miss Dorothy Rish, Miss Isabella Wilson, Miss Gertrude Roberts and Miss Bernice Coppock, bridesmaids, and Miss Margaret Jamieson, maid of honor, and two little flower girls, Patsy Ruth Doolittle and Bernice Roberts, followed by the bride, entered from the south vestry. The bridal party met at the altar, which was massed with flowers, and against a background of cream colored lattice work twined with pink snapdragons and bridal wreath, the ceremony was performed.

Immediately following the wedding a reception was held at the University Club in Portland before Mr. and Mrs. Hill left on the Portland Rose for Chi-

PENNINGTONS HONOR SENIORS WITH RECEPTION

Pres. and Mrs. Pennington gave a lovely reception for the graduating class on their lawn, Friday, June 2.

In the receiving line were the members of the Senior class, Mr. and Mrs. Miller, Mrs. Baker, Mr. and Mrs. Hanville, Mr. and Mrs. Hendrickson, Mrs. McGuire, members of the faculty and others. The guests chatted informally together and admired the beautiful flowers.

Some of the freshmen girls served punch and wafers.

FRESHMEN ENTERTAIN SOPHOMORES AT PARK

On Friday afternoon, May 26, the long anticipated freshman-sophomore party was held at Hirter's park from 3 o'clock on.

Upon reaching Hirter's, everyone made a dash for the river for a cold plunge (well, almost everyone anyway). The water was cold, to put it mildly, but some people seemed to enjoy the punishment. A baseball game was also started and enjoyed.

The original plan was to await supper for the boys, who had to go to the track and tennis meets in the afternoon, but at about seven o'clock the idea was discarded and everyone sat down to a "swell" meal. Anyone especially inter-

Pacific Largest Senior Class to Graduate Soon

Climaxing a series of events heralding the end of the school year, commencement exercises for the class of '33 will be held at Wood-Mar hall Tuesday morning, June 13, at ten o'clock.

President-Emeritus Leonard W. Riley of Linfield College will deliver the address.

The present graduating class, the largest that Pacific has ever had, boasts of fifteen members, nine women and six men. Those receiving the degree of Bachelor of Arts and the titles of their theses are: Grace Mason, "Europe's Way Out;" Doris Hampton, "Changing Ideas and Practices in School Discipline;" Lloyd Baker, "A Teaching Program for High School Chemistry;" Alan D. Rutherford, "Lynching and Mob Violence;" Winifred Woodward, "Herbert C. STUDENTS LEAVE FOR EAST FOR CONFERENCE

Last Saturday morning bright and early Winifred Woodward, Bernice Coppock, Pacific students, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Armstrong, and Mr. and Mrs. Will Laurence, graduate students at Oregon State College, started by auto on a trip to the east.

The prime purpose of the journey is to attend a four day conference at the Institute for Training in Social Work which is being held in Philadelphia. It is sponsored by the Friends Service Committee. They will stay over a week longer and be present at the Eastern Young Friends' conference at Howards university in Washington, D. C. They also expect to visit New York City, and stop for a very short time at the Worlds Fair in Chicago.

When they return, about the middle of July, Mr. Armstrong will have charge of the recreation work that is being launched here in Newberg this summer.

Bernice Coppock and Mr. and Mrs. Laurence will go to work in the W. C. T. U. orphan home in Corvallis.

Winifred Woodward will go to be a companion and guide to girls that Judge Gilbert of the Court of Domestic Relations in Portland has sent to the White Shield Home.

TO THE STUDENTS OF PACIFIC COLLEGE, 1932-33

Dear Friends:

I think there has never been a year since I came here in 1911 (before some of you were born, though that doesn't seem believable to me) when I have enjoyed my work with the college students as much as I have enjoyed it this year. As the year closes may I express three wishes for you?

First, that you may have a pleasant and profitable vacation —profitable in a financial way if that is what you need (and who of us doesn't?); and profitable in the way of personal development, physical, mental, moral, social, and spiritual, a summer that will broaden and deepen and heighten us all in the things that make men and women.

Second, that you may be back next fall. You can't hope to do a more profitable thing than to go on making further investment in your own personality, through education. Many of you wouldn't be able to find jobs if you stayed out. And even if a good job were yours for the asking, your best job right now is going on with your education if it is humanly possible. Whatever else you may have done, I am sure you have not exhausted all the possibilities unless you have talked with me about your prospects, your needs, and all that sort of thing.

Third, that you bring somebody with you when you come. Pacific College is often called "The biggest little college in Oregon", and it would be bigger still if it were not so little. You can make it bigger if you bring some other student back with you.

With the hope that we shall all exert ourselves to the limit during the summer and during the coming year, to make 1933-34 the best year the college has ever had, I am

Sincerely your friend,
Levi T. Pennington,
President.

VELDON DIMENT WINNER IN "OLD PULPIT" CONTEST

The preliminary division of the Old Pulpit extemporaneous speaking contest was held in the college chapel on Tuesday, May 23.

There were ten contestants in the preliminary contest: Margaret Weesner, Veldon Diment, Eugene Coffin, Angus Henrickson, Janet McShane, Gertrude Roberts, Rex Hampton, Willard Hehn, Ronald Sherk, and Wendell Morse.

A complete list of the topics based on articles in recent periodicals had been posted on the bulletin board for some time. At six o'clock subjects were drawn and from that time till seven-thirty contestants spent in specific preparation for their speeches, which varied in length from five to seven minutes.

The judges selected a group of five to compete in the final contest which was held May 29. Ronald Sherk spoke on the subject, "Quelling the Quacks," Angus Henrickson on "Organized Religion," Willard Hehn on "Let's Be Honest About the Tariff," Veldon Diment on "The Family in Soviet Russia," and Gertrude Roberts on "Who Is Sir Basil Zaharoff?"

Veldon Diment carried off the oratorical honors in the final contest and his name will be engraved on the plate of the first pulpit ever used in Newberg.

DIXY DORTH

Dear Dixie Dorth:
Please tell us how to get rid of pests.
Aunty Insect.

My Dear Aunty:
There are pests and "pests," and since you did not designate which you were trying to exterminate I am somewhat at a loss as to how to answer. If you are troubled by the insect variety, I would suggest that you consult your druggist as to the most effective insecticide. The human variety is harder to deal with, however, since the laws of society do not allow us to exterminate them entirely. Try eating garlic, cooking onions, and boiling cabbage. If this doesn't work, drop a few hints, if stronger measures are necessary, try insulting them, and finally move away and leave no forwarding address.
Dixie Dorth.

Dear Miss Dorth:
When we are down in the canyon and very occupied, the mosquitos bother us, please tell us what to do.
Sylvanus.

Dear Sylvanus:
Mosquitos are a bit annoying, aren't they? You might hire Henry and his Flit gun to stand guard, but if you blindfolded Henry he couldn't see the mosquitos. Then of course you might find another location for your occupation where the mosquitos aren't quite so plentiful.
Dixie Dorth.

Dear Dixie:
On these nice, warm spring days we get so hot-headed playing tennis. What shall we do about it?
T Toridpole.

Dear Toridpole:
Some people don't have to play tennis to get hot-headed, they need an ice-pack most of the time. I might suggest, however, that you wear a hat, for you must remember that shallow brains need more protection than others. Also pick a very cool-headed person to play with and try playing early mornings or late evenings and you'll find it much easier to keep cool.
Dixie Dorth.

WILD FLOWERS STUDIED

The Trefian Literary Society was called to order by the president, Josephine Smith, in the girls' dormitory parlors on Wednesday, May 31, 1933, at 4 o'clock in the afternoon. After roll-call, the awards for the Trefian "T" pin were made. Those receiving the pin awards were Garnet Guild, Bonnie Speaker, and Eva Hart. These pins are awarded by the society for regular attendance of meetings, participation in programs and regular payment of dues and fines. The meeting was then adjourned, for a hike through the college canyon, led by Miss Sutton. This hike was very educational as well as interesting and enjoyable. Miss Sutton called special attention to various plants that she had labeled beforehand. Poison oak was especially noted. It was interesting to see what a great variety of plants, shrubs, and trees we do have in our canyon. The members wrote down the names of all the specimens mentioned, and at the end of the hike, named as many of ten samples as they could.

During the hike the members greatly enjoyed refreshments consisting of fudgicles, served by the social chairman, Marguerite Nordyke. The president of the society expressed her pleasure of having had the honor of being president, and hoped that the next president would receive the same faithful service by the society as given during the past semester. Thus ended the last Trefian meeting of this semester.

DeVine: Men aren't as vain as women. You don't see a man standing hours before a mirror admiring his beauty. Sweet Young Thing: They don't have any.

STUDENT-FACULTY GOLF TOURNAMENT IS A TIE

The semi-annual Student-Faculty golf tournament held at the Yamhill County Golf and Country Club last Saturday, June 3, resulted in a tie.

The singles and doubles matches were equally divided, and after much argument the rules of the contest were consulted to see what should be done about it. According to the rules of the tournament, the two student players who received the lowest medal score shall play the two faculty members with the lowest medal score a foursome match of 18 holes to determine the winners.

The results of the matches were:
Angus Henrickson beat Prof. Gulley.
Tom Howard beat President Pennington.

Prof. Perisho beat Dennis McGuire.
Prof. Lewis beat Ronald Hutchens.
President Pennington and Prof. Perisho defeated Tom Howard and Dennis McGuire.

Angus Henrickson and Ronald Hutchens beat Prof. Lewis and Prof. Gulley.
According to the rule for playing off the tie, Tom Howard and Ronald Hutchens will play Prof. Lewis and Prof. Perisho.

The winning team will be awarded the Pacific college golf cup. The faculty now has possession of it.

PACIFIC COMPETES IN MEET AT WILLAMETTE

Although officially postponed, a track meet was held at Willamette university Friday, May 26. Salem "Y," Willamette university, and Pacific college entered contestants in only six events—the 100 yd. dash, 440, 880, mile, two mile, and javelin.

The meet, which was to have been staged on Friday, had been called off, since Willamette had a conference meet the following day, but P. C., hearing nothing of it, sent its regular team. Willamette and Salem "Y" gathered together a few men and entered them in competition with the Pacific team.

The 100 yd. dash and 440 were taken by Page of the Salem "Y," with Ronald Hutchens a close second in both. The 880 and javelin were also won by Page, Sandoz and Henrickson respectively taking second places.

Pacific did not place in the mile but won a second place in the two mile through the efforts of Curtis Morse. First place was won by Willamette university.

SENIORS GIVE GRAVEL WALK FOR CLASS GIFT

If anyone would have wandered past the campus last Saturday he would have beheld a sight strange and startling. Laboring, some strenuously, others not so strenuously, the seniors gave the school a pleasant surprise and built as their class gift to the school a gravel walk from the southwest corner of Wood-Mar Hall along the driveway to the edge of the campus.

At noon, after making ice cream, they took an hour off for lunch (by the clock it was about two hours). A casual observer watching Dennis McGuire work was wondering if a slow motion picture was being taken.

TENNIS TEAM LOSES MATCH TO MONMOUTH

In the last match of the season the tennis team was unsuccessful in its attempt to bring home victory from Monmouth Friday, May 26.

Although they put up a plucky fight at times worrying their opponents, the P. C. team, Eugene Coffin, Dennis McGuire, Marion DeVine, and Loyde Osburn, were not quite a match for the racket welders of Monmouth.

Those who will receive the Bachelor of Science degree and the names of their theses are: Josephine Smith, "The Application of the Theorems of Determinants;" Dennis McGuire, "A Mineral Analysis of Spring Water Supplying the City of Newberg;" Loyde Osburn, "Electric Power From the Creek in Pacific College Canyon;" and Marion DeVine, "The Derivation of a Pedal Curve."

Winifred Woodward will be unable to be present at commencement since she left for the East last Saturday.

On Sunday, June 11, at eleven o'clock President Pennington will deliver the baccalaureate address in the Friends church. At eight o'clock in the evening Dr. Perisho, also at the Friends church, will speak to the Young People's Christian Associations. This will be the last chance for people in Newberg to hear Dr. Perisho who will leave soon to take up the position of head of Chemistry at Penn college.

Further activities of graduation time include the one date that perhaps creates the most interest among all students and others, Class Day, Monday, June 12.

In the evening at the Class Day exercises the Seniors will present "Ann of Old Salem." There are rumors that Bruin, the much desired bear, will be present at this time.

As a kind of anti-climax, Tuesday evening, Commencement day, the alumni banquet will take place in the dormitory dining room. This banquet brings back each year very many Pacific graduates for a day of renewed acquaintances with the school.

First of the events leading up to Commencement day is the Gold "P," lettermen's club, annual banquet to be held at the Chamber of Commerce hall, Friday evening, June 9. Don Larimer, president of the Gold "P" club, aided by Charles Henrickson, funkey, have gone to a great deal of preparation for the event which promises to be a great success. Several members who were formerly Pacific students are expected to be present.

Professor Weesner has been engaged as toastmaster. Toasts will be given by Ben Huntington, Dr. Hester, Professor Macy, Dennis McGuire, and Ronald Sherk.

The School of Music, directed by Professor Alexander Hull, will present its much anticipated annual concert Saturday evening June 10, at eight o'clock, in Wood-Mar Hall. The program will probably be as follows:

A Seabeck meeting was held May 24 in the music room. The room was decorated with flowers and the girls sat on blankets on the floor. The meeting was carried on as a day at Seabeck would be.

Rounds and songs were sung at breakfast time. Bernice Coppock led a worship service in the "Cathedral of the Pines." In various conferences and discussion groups, the grounds of Seabeck were described and questions were answered about Seabeck in general. The recreation is quite varied and a definite time is set aside for sports. After the last discussion group, Marjorie Lewis and Janette McShane sang "Follow the Gleam."

The Y. W. cabinet held its annual spring retreat down by the Yamhill river, May 27. Plans were made for the coming year's work which, with the co-operation of all the students, promises to be very successful. At noon a picnic lunch, consisting of wieners and all the trimmings, was greatly appreciated as everyone seemed to be very hungry. It was found that coffee can boil over and wieners get rather dark even over a fire of damp wood. The attempts to walk across the river on stepping stones was more or less successful. Una and Helen might testify to the "less" part.

Y. M. C. A.

The Senior men of the Y. M. led the meeting on Wednesday, May 24. The speakers were Curtis Morse, Dennis McGuire, and Loyde Osburn. They told something of their experiences in the "Y," and what the purpose of the "Y" is among the students. They especially emphasized the spirit of Christian fellowship it cultivates and what it means to a student to be firmly anchored in Christian faith.

Sunday, May 28, the deputation group made its last trip to Gibbs for this season. This group, composed of the deputation committees of the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A., has conducted a Sunday school in the school house at Gibbs throughout the school year. The group has also conducted several services at different places—at the Friends churches at Chehalem Center, Springbrook, Middleton, Rosedale, and Newberg, and at the Evangelical church in Tigard.

DR. CULVER SPEAKS TO CHRISTIAN GROUPS

The students were glad to have the opportunity of hearing Dr. Ray Culver again at the joint Y. W. and Y. M. meeting May 31.

Dr. Culver finds that everywhere students are not finding positions. The strain of this time of economic distress is great and people who have centered their lives around money, families, or fame are breaking down. People have thought that things can be done entirely by machine and have left out God. The change has caused some people to do more serious thinking, especially students. The beauty and radiance of religion have been lost because the church has turned away from God. We must have courage to face this important issue. To have true courage we must have faith and close contact with God. Men and women who call themselves Christians must "stick by their guns" and live up to the name of Christian in every way. Now is the time for Christian students to do what they can in the fight for right and to prepare for leadership.

SENIORS SNEAK AND SNICKER

Introduction:

"The seniors are sneaking, hurray, hurray!"

The seniors are sneaking, hurray!"
(To be sung sonorously, many times.)

Story:

In the dead of night (or perhaps it was just the sick of night) the senior class, the dormitory matron, and a "great big grizzly bear" stealthily departed from the city. That was Wednesday, May 24, and fond friends and relatives (and a husband) saw no more of the group until near the witching hour of May 25th.

The big question at school Thursday morning was—where have they gone, and is Bruin, the bear, along? There wasn't even a raven to answer the curious although echoes of gayety and nonsense might have been heard coming across the distant hills.

In the meantime, out on the shores of the Pacific Ocean many things were transpiring. The very night the seniors got there, Winifred heard the ocean from way upstairs. According to later reports, Marion and Curtis might be able to make remarks on the subject of roaring, but it is hoped no one will embarrass them by asking an explanation.

When the morning dawned, grey and threatening, the group of runaways became ambitious. They hiked all over sand dunes, through wind and rain. In between times they ate, and for a change they ate.

The girls of the crowd took lessons in how to be first class squaws, after they got back from the hike. Other fragments of information drifted back from the scene, such as Bruin airing on the back porch and a dog offering himself for mascot (he must not have smelled Bruin!) but these bits are scattered and incoherent.

Conclusions:

The senior class, accompanied by Miss Carter, and Mr. Lynn Hampton, spent Wednesday night and Thursday at the Pennington cottage at Woods. They got all wet and had a good time. Bruin also went—they have pictures to prove it.

COMMITTEE CONSIDERS SCHOLARSHIP AWARDS

The scholarship committee of the faculty is considering a proposition in regard to the manner in which to dispose of scholarships to first year students. The faculty agreed to allow several full year scholarships to be given this next year. After a suggestion that the Gold "P" Club be allowed to recommend persons to whom some of these should be awarded, the committee thought that in fairness to all, the four student organizations, the Y. M. C. A., the Y. W. C. A., Treflan Literary Society, and the Gold "P" Club each should be allowed to recommend students to the committee, if the idea is acceptable to each organization.

If the plan is accepted by the faculty, the committee will then pass the recommendation on to the faculty for its approval.

The plan now is to have each organization recommend three students, but it is quite likely that if there are more than three they will be considered.

The Gold "P" Club, the Treflan Society, and the Y. M. C. A. have all expressed themselves willing to cooperate in the plan.

Miss Dorothea Nordyke, member of the graduating class of 1932, last Saturday announced her engagement to Mr. Roger Hart of Newberg. Last spring Miss Nordyke was chosen by the Pacific student body to be Queen of the May Day festivities. Mr. Hart is about as well known at Pacific as though he were a student, because of his work and ability as a photographer.

DORM DOINGS

"Where's my bed? What do you suppose they did with my shoes? I've just got to find something to wear to school tomorrow"—and so on until everything was located and back in its old place after the raiding of senior rooms on sneak day.

After the main course had been served at dinner time Thursday evening everyone was asked to adjourn to the parlor for the dessert. A little poem written on birchbark explained everything. It read:

A Birthday Surprise for Miss Carter,
To know the exact date, naught is harder,

For although 'twas in May,
When we asked, she said "nay."
So we celebrate now with great ardor.
A beautiful, big birthday cake and ice cream topped with fresh strawberries were served.

Mr. Clarence Wilde was a dinner guest at the dorm Saturday evening.

"How am I ever going to take home everything I've brought down here?" Suggestion and help will be welcomed by the dormites.
